Manufacturing Aid Bill Nears Passage

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill described as one of the most significant in this legislative session was advanced by the Missouri Senate today to position for passage.

Advancement came on a one sided voice vote after a lengthy debate.

Sen. A. Clifford Jones, RBrentwood, said the measure allowing public agencies or private corporations to apply for recognition as a foreign trade zone could result in multi-billion dollar processing of raw materials such as coffee, oil, diamonds or other commodities.

Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, sponsor of the measure, said the effect would be to let importers bring in foreign goods on a duty free basis and pay no import taxes until the goods were processed and purchased in this country.

He said it could be of great importance to Kansas City, St. Louis or any other area of the state and might even help depressed areas increase their manufacturing.

Jones noted establishment of a foreign trade zone would be especially important in view of the fact that Kansas City is building an international airport.

He described the proposed Missouri law as the broadest in the country but said the builtin safeguard is that no foreign trade zone could be authorized unless approved by the federal government after a study of foreign trade, geographic and other considerations.

Sen. Edward T. Linehan, DSt. Louis sought to limit application of the bill to governmental bodies but that was defeated, 9-17 after Jones said it would merely mean adding another line of bureaucracy before the importer could take advantage of the law.

In a busy morning the Senate also gave first round approval to a series of bills that would prevent the Internal Revenue Service from taxing charitable trusts, private schools, hospitals and other not-for-profit corporations after July 1.

No Check Payment, Probation Revoked

Probation on a 90-day sentence imposed on Elaine McElfresh March 30 was revoked today for failure to make payment on a bad check.

Magistrate judge Lloyd G. Briggs, in court today following an absense last week because of illness, revoked the probation and turned the woman over to Scott county authorities.

Miss McElfresh, who lives at the Delta Motel, was charged with writing bad checks in mid March.

A plea of innocent was entered by Michael Wayne Apperson and Stanley Ross Abernathy both of 108 Ruth on a charge of destroying private property and stealing.

The two, 17 and 18, were accompanied by their parents in court.

Apperson and Abernathy are charged with last week's breakins of three Sikeston car wash establishments.

Kenneth Dement and Joseph Fuchs were appointed by the court today to represent Ezell Applewhite and Leon Wilder on a charge of stealing from Lindsey's M and H. The case was continued to next Tuesday.

Black Equipment Company Plans To Move Plant to Sikeston Area

MINER — The Black Equipment Company of Fayette, Ala., expects to move its manufacturing operations to the Sikeston area and will build a plant as soon as a site is available, James H. Black of Fayette said today.

The plant will employ 60 at the ouset, Black said, and increase it to 100.

He said that the company had chosen this area because of the transportation facilities for its products.

The company will have a sales office and distrubtion center on Malone Avenue, near the city limits, Black said.

The sales building will be erected immediately on a five-acre tract. The grounds will be used to display the new Alabama manufactured product.

Products sold at the site will be large post hole diggers, attachable to any tractor. capable of drilling six, nine of 12-inch holes.

A second steel product will be large drag cutters, known as bush hogs, in sizes four, five and six feet in width.

Several trailer loads of finished products have arrived for the distribution center.

Hotel Item Repassed By House

among those sent to the Senate was a $21 million capital improvements appropriation for the coming fiscal year. It included a $2.5 million item to purchase the Governor Hotel here and convert it into state office space.

The idea is to provide more space in the capitol for legislative offices. The same item was refused by the Senate in an emergency bill earlier and Appropriations Chairman E.J. (Lucky) Cantrell, D-Overland, predicted the same fate for the latest measure.

Other bills sent to the Senate would:

Increase contributions and benefits under the state teachers retirement system.

Change the name of the state sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, Mo., to State Chest Hospital.

Provide easement of land at both the Fulton and St. Joseph State Hospitals for utility purposes.

Let fourth class cities levy a tax of 41 on each $100 of assessed valuation without a vote of the residents.

Court Upholds Busing Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — A unanimous Supreme Court held today federal courts may order busing of public school children as a means of desegregating schools.

"Desegregation plans cannot be limited to the walk-in school," said Chief Justice Waren E. Burger in announcing the most important ruling of the term.

At the same time, the court held fixed racial ratios are not required in all the schools of a community.

As Burger said: "The constitutional command to desegregate schools does not mean that every school in every community must always reflect the racial composition of the school system as a whole."

However, the court ruled valid the use of a white-black ratio system for schools in Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, N.C.

"The very limited use of mathematical ratios was within the equitable remedial discretion of the district court," said the chief justice.

In all respects the court was unanimous as it ruled on school cases from Mobile County, Ala., and Clarke County, Ga., as well as the Charlotte case.

Burger delivered all five opinions, taking command as his predecessor, Earl Warren, did when the court in 1954 first declared segregation of public school students for racial reasons was unconstitutional.

Among the court's findings was that the North Carolina antibusing law is unconstitutional because it prevents implementation of desegregation plans. The law forbade assignment of students on account of race or for the purpose of creating racial balance. Additionally, it prohibited "involuntary" busing as well as the use of public funds for such busing.

More than 11,000 copies of the Scott County Community Shelter plan will be distributed countywide Thursday to each household in the county.

The plan, which locates the public shelters in Scott county, also provides other emergency information such as improvising a shelter within the home.

The plan was developed by Walter M. Clark, Jefferson City Community Shelter Planning Officer for Missouri and was completed at a cost of $1,244. A federal grant financed it.

Scott county is the 28th county inMissouri to complete a community shelter plan.

Pinch Felt By Red Cross

NEW MADRID— New Madrid county chapter of American Red Cross Fund drive is far below the goal of $5,000, and the chapter is making a plea for contributions.

A total of $1,242.50 had been received by April 15, according to Mrs. Howard Crisler, county chairman. Mrs. Crisler reports many services to servicemem have been curtailed because of inadequate funds. A wife of a Vietnam veteran, ill in Texas, could not visit him and a mother of an injured serviceman could not visit him in Florida because no funds were available through the county chapter. These are services the Red Cross would normally provide, Mrs. Crisler said, if funds were available.

Most of the chapter funds are used for service to servicemem and their families, Mrs. Crisler said.

Funds received in the annual drive, which will be concluded within two weeks, are: Matthews, $120, Mrs. Dick Odom, chairman; Lilbourn, $191.94, Mrs. Shirley Talylor, chairman; Risco, $116.70, Mrs. Van Gibbs, chairman; Parma, $64.86, Mrs.Robert Lewis, chairman; Kewanee, $78, Mrs. Mildred Brotherton, chairman; highway 61, Knoxall to highway 60, $95, Tom Moore, chairman; $25, personal donation from Roger Rhodes; $50, electrician workers; $50, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, and $25, Brothers Club, all of St. Jude Industrial Park; and $525, New Madrid Community Fund.

Thieves Roll Five Tires

NEW MADRID — Five tires were stolen in a breakin last night at Barnes Standard Station, highway 61 and interstate 55 junction, south of New Madrid.

Police said entry was made by knocking out a glass in south door.

Decline in Cotton Ginned In Bootheel

WASHINGTON--Six of seven counties reporting their number of bales of cotton ginned in 1970-71 up to April this year showing a total of 223,195 bales compared to 326,044 bales in 1969.

No figure for Scott county as available but the previous year was 11,732 bales.

Fifth Breakin Occurs

The fifth break-in in less than a month was reported last night when thieves entered the home of Mauline Retter, 415 Ruth, and left with merchandise valued at $95.

According to police, the thief came in through a rear window, Apparently the thief then stole food and ate on the kitchen table.

The garage of the home was entered and a jewelry box, silverware, dishes and a combination radio-record player were taken.

Police Chief Arthur Bruce said this morning that Sikeston is undergoing a rash of house burglaries and said that citizens could assist police.

Bruce urged that anyone seeing anything that suspicious or unusual to report it to the police.

Burce requested citizens that are planning to be out-of-town to notify their neighbors or police to maintain a watch on their house.

"Even if you're just going to be gone three or four hours tell your neighbor," he said. "It doesn't take a thief long to get into a house and then get out again."

Bruce said that if anyone attempts to sell television sets, guns or coin collection at an unusually low price to report it to the police.

Council Approves Paving of Lanes

NEW MADRID — The city council last night passed a resolution for the paving of 700 feet of Pinnell Lane and 251 feet of Ramsey Lane in the area west of highway 61.

The council ordered that the need for paving be issued immediately.

City Administrative Assistant Russell Ellis advised the council of additional streets needing improvement that should be paved this year. They are Water street from Church street to Lime street, Lime street from Water street to the Cotton Belt railroad, Mott street from the alley to Lime street, and Mill street from Main street to the Cotten Belt railroad.

Ellis told the council that these streets were in bad condition and would require paving soon.

A packaged liquor license was granted to Mary Patterson Cobb to be located at Horace's Bait Shop on Russell street subject to compliance with state regulations.

H. H. Townsend Jr. requested land owned by him fronting on old Kingshighway be included in sewage planning now being made for the servicing of the Billie Goat Hill section on the west side of town. He told the council that he would have 10 building lots and that there were three existing residences requiring sewage service.

The council authorized Russell Ellis to make preliminary estimates for the additional sewage improvements.

The council approved the certification of the recent city election as drafted by County Clerk Jesse Wilkins.

An ordinance limiting liquor by the drink establishments to one per each 1,000 population ased on the census was passed. The ordinance would not affect any of five present businesses.

Mayor Robert Riley read a letter from the Missouri Municipal League requesting the city's nomination for the outstanding civic leader of the year who will receive an award at the league's annual meeting. The council agreed to let the Chamber of Commerce select the man to receive the award.

Discussed was speed limits on highway 61 and route U within the city limits. The council was advised that the highway department will run a survey of the traffic now using these routes and recommend the limits to be posted.

The council authorized the Chase Manhattan Bank to replace $5,000 in municipal revenue bonds which had been reported lost or destroyed. These were bonds issued for construction of the power station in St. Jude Industrail Park.

Construction bills totalling $761,921.31 for power plant construction were approved.

Sheriff Election May 11

CARUTHERSVILLE — Pemiscot county court Monday set May 11, for a special election for sheriff of Pemiscot county to fill the unexpired term of ousted Pemiscot sheriff Clyde Orton.

Filing date for candidates is 4:30 p.m. April 30 with the county clerk.

Hospital Needs More Blood Donors

Dr. Robert Ahlvin, pathologist at Missouri Delta Community hospital, last night made a plea for more blood donors and explained the value of post mortem examinations.

He said that the risk of spreading serum hepatitis was greater from purchased blood than from that which is donated. The presence of syphillis and malaria in blood are detected readily but hepatitis cannot be.

About half the blood used at the Sikeston hospital is purchased, he told the Rotary club at the Rustic Rock Inn.

The doctor explained that the joint commission on hospital accreditation insists on more post mortem examinations of those who die in hospitals.

He said that the examinations provide a method of evaluating health care provided and may give relatives and friends information they need.

Dr. Ahlivn explained that tuberculosis often is difficult to detect in older persons and that it was discovered that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the former President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died from it.

A hospital pathologist exams all tissue removed in operations, he said.

Dr. Ahlvin was introduced by Pat Jones.

A ROMAN CIRCUS

The Communist enemies of the United States are sure to welcome with glee the "war crimes hearings" proposed by Representatives Bella Abzug (N.Y.), John Conyers (Mich.), Ronald Dellums (Cal.) and Parren Mitchell (Maryland), who told the press that they have designated April 26-29 to investigate "command responsibilities" for alleged American atrocities in Vietnam.If we are to judge by the wild statements attributed to the four legislators, the "hearings" will be a Roman circus of malicious and irresponsbile accusations against the valiant men of our armed forces, who will not be given an opportunity to defend themselves or to tell the true story of the massive help which they have contributed to the people of Vietnam, above and beyond their military service.

By odd coincidence, on the same day of the Abzug-Conyers-Dellums- Mitchell announcement, a United Press dispatch from Vietnam reported that a Communist Viet Cong defector led Allies to the graves of 18 persons slain by the Reds during the 1968 TET offensive. It was found that the hands of the victims had been tied behind them with wire, and that they had been shot, stabbed, or buried alive. The defector said that there were at lease another 40 or 50 murdered victims in the same area, some ten miles North of Hue. During the "Tet offensive" in 1968, the Communist troops moved into the city of Hue with prepared lists, by name, of 5,700 civilians designated for slaughter. The Viet Cong went door to door, methodically seeking out the victims. They were led away, and then murdered in cold blood. More than 3,000 bodies have since been located, mostly in mass graves around Hue. Another 2,000 are still missing, but they, too, are presumed to have been massacred; a fear substantiated by this latest discovery of bodies 50 miles away.

By no stretch of the imagination can the Calley case be compared with the carefully planned, deliberately premeditated, and methodically conducted atrocities of the Communists. It is sickening to note that there are those, though few in number, who have siezed the Calley case as an opportunity to slander and defame the United States, but who remain silent or apologize for the very real war crimes of the Communists.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE

Inflation has revealed that there is no miracle of efficiency in a government - operated business, such as Tennessee Valley Authority electric power project. The TVA in spite of numerous tax exemptions not enjoyed by private power companies has been forced to impose drastic rate increases to keep up with rising costs.

In the past, public ownership advocated liked to picture TVA as a rescuer of private utilities when it furnished power to them. Under pooling arrangements, this is the normal procedure and TVA benefits from it in the same way as any other utility.

The Oklahoma City (Okla.) Times comments on the present position of TVA: "For those with long memories there's a touch of irony in ... (the local power company's) latest statement ... the big Oklahoma utility notes that power sales for resale continue to be a large revenue producer as surrounding utilities including TVA have been taking economy and emergency, power from (it) regularly. TVA was established back in the '30s to serve as a yardstick for the private utilities ... Now the public power complex, despite its tax breaks, finds it expedient to buy power wholesale from an investor-owned utility which was able, after paying dividends and taxes amounting to nearly 25 cents of every revenue dollar received, to build sufficient generating capacity for its own needs and those of surrounding utilities including TVA."

No, there is no miracle in government operation of any business. It is just a question of getting the tax breaks and having help from private enterprise when it is needed.

SPEED, SPEED AND MORE SPEED --
WHERE WILL IT ALL END?

Overpowering engines, gasoline bills, insurance costs and accident rates all seem to have a cause-and-effect relationship directly connected to motorists' apparent obsession with speed, power and self-destruction.

The 1968 facts are final -- $14.25 billion was lost due to personal injury associated with highway accidents. Fifty-five thousand people were killed and an estimated 4.4 million injured. Property damage amounted to millions of dollars more. Initial 1969 figures won't show much to rejoice about.

Feeling a pinch in the pocketbook, several national insurance companies have announced their intention to charge higher-than- usual premiums for coverage of so-called "performance" or "super" cars. Rates will raise because of the very severe crash and loss rates of such vehicles. According to recent reports issued by the insurance industry, super-powerful cars are producing, on the average, 56 per cent more losses than standard-powered cars.

But while insurance companies take steps to discourage speed and super power, automobiles keep appearing with newer and better engines.

Slowing to a stop at toll gates soon may be a thing of the past if an experiment now underway at the Golden Gate Bridge is successful. According to a recent report, bridge authorities are testing a computerized installation that eventually may allow commuters to pay their toll without slowing down.

A special transmitter in the car is tuned to send a code number to tell a master computer that the car has traveled over the bridge. The master computer then tabulates a monthly bill and sends it to the driver.

Automatic toll-collecting devices such as these perhaps already had a hand in pushing the average open road speed beyond the 59 M.P.H. mark set in 1968.

Though the bell-like "ping-ping" sound of the toll collecting passes into history, it's almost a sure thing in spite of gadgets, bells will still toll for drivers racing an accident to a happening and winding up in a dead heat.

To silence the tolling bells and bring an end to the wasteful depletion of life and economic resources, highway safety standards and regulations must do better than just keep pace with automotive and gadget technology.

You ask what can be done? One possible approach is to use available engineering and technical skills to upgrade our state and local highway systems. Approve of it or not, speed is here to stay and roadways should be upgraded to accommodate our faster traveling. To do this, motorists and highway planners must be willing to spend the time, money and effort needed to prepare our highways for our hardware.

Most local people take for granted many services which are provided for the community by the hometown newspaper. The services are often expensive for the newspaper and free of charge to the groups served.

The activities of civic organization, athletic events, business promotions, farm development and social affairs are good examples. Often these activities would be dismal failures without the free help of the local newspaper. Some of them owe their existence to newspaper publicity.

The editor of a Texas weekly dramatized this situation in a humorous column. He said that he figured it cost his newspaper $900 when a local girl got married. This cost was figured on the basis of type composition and space used on stories on the wedding and parties leading to the wedding.

"This does not include about 40 hours of tedious work on the part of editor telling about how beautiful and charming the honoree (sometimes as ugly as a mud fence) was in chantilly lace, black sheath, etc. ..."

The editor then set up a standing offer: "$15.00 wedding present to any gal that runs off and gets married ..."

However, the distraught editor can find some consolation in the publicity given to non-commercial activities. The importance attached to the publicity by the local community is continuing proof that the newspaper is a closely read and indispensable local advertising medium.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — How does it feel to wear a $3,000 dress?

"I feel more comfortable in blue jeans,' said Abbe Lane.

"But if the dress gives a show glamor and every woman in the audience would like to wear it, then the money is well spent.'

The red-haired international singing and dancing star is something of an expert on the cost of things right now. She spent $85,000 to ready a new supper club act, a sum for which an off-Broadway drama could be produced.

"It's an investment or a gamble," she said, during a recent unveiling of the act in the Persian Room at the Hotel Plaza. "You never know until the returns are in.

"This is the first time I've prepared this kind of a show. The responsibility was all on my shoulders and I had many a sleepless night. The whole thing would have given me gray hair—but red-haired stars don't get gray hair."

How could a night club act with a star and only two male dancers cost $85,000 to produce? Well, it isn't so hard when you consider what goes into it.

"You start with eight weeks of planning and eight weeks of rehearsal, 'said Abbe.

"Then, there are the director, two writers and three arrangers.

"Then there's the three wardrobe designers and five costume changes for the boys and 10 for me, including a $3,000 dress.

"Then there are the specially constructed props.

"Then there are the lighting director and the musical conductor.

"Then there are three special musicians.

"Then there is the rehearsal pianist and the rehearsal studio.

"Then there are traveling expenses—and all sorts of other things.

"All creative people are very expensive, and I try for the very best."

This is by no means all the new act will cost Miss Lane. She now has a payroll of eight persons—"not including hairdressers and governesses for my children"—that runs between $5,000 and $7,000 weekly.

„it will probably cost another $40,000 for new wardrobes and to periodically improve the material for the act," said Abbe grimacing.

Why does a star of Miss Lane's stature take such financial risks on her own when she has plenty of engagements to keep her busy and solvent?

"You can't just pick a few songs and stand up and stand up and sing them,' she said. "That won't get you anywhere now. You have to give the people a new show, a real show, for their money."

The Missouri State Highway Patrol made a total of 150,241 arrests in 1970. This was an increase of three per cent over the number of arrests made in 1969. Nearly 95 per cent of these arrests were classified as "traffic', or motor vehicle associated arrests. The remaining arrests were in the criminal misdemeanor and felony category.

There were 142,253 motor vehicle arrests of which 83,726 were for hazardous moving traffic violations. This was a decrease of nearly five per cent from the number of these hazardous moving violation arrests made during the previous year. Among the offenses included in this category are those relating to careless and imprudent driving and driving while intoxicated.

Those arrests made by the Highway Patrol last year for moving violations involving drinking numbered 4,514. The number of these driving while intoxicated arrests classified as motor vehicle misdemeanors totaled 4,425. There were also 89 driving while intoxicated felony arrests made by the Patrol. Under Missouri Statutes the first two convictions for driving while intoxicated are misdemeanors, but the third and subsequent offenses are felonies.

The Patrol's Commercial Motor Vehicle Enforcement Division weighed 1,212,374 commercial vehicles last year. The Division made 26,873 arrests and issued 119,691 written warnings.

In addition to the arrests made by the Highway Patrol, the troopers issued warnings to 427,327 persons for minor infractions of the law. The Patrol also rendered 214,303 services and first aid to motorists n 1970 and investigated over 34,000 traffic accidents.

Time after time, the figure of $5 billion has been quoted as the saving to the public that could be realized on the price of petroleum products if the federal government's oil import restrictions were lifted. The figure has been used as a statement of fact beyond question. When it was used in this manner in a feature story in The New York Times magazine, it brought a quick response from the president of the American Petroleum Institute.

The president of the Institute, Mr. Frank Ikard, in referring to The New York Times piece, says, "....A great deal is made in the article of the alleged $5 billion 'cost' of the oil import program to the public, but nowhere is it indicated that this is a matter very much in dispute. The U.S. Interior Department, for example, estimates that the real cost of the program -- after taking all factors into account — is only about one -fifth of the figure cited ... and points out that such a cost represents very inexpensive insurance for the national military and economic security provided by the program. A study by the Stanford Research Institute found that there is no net cost of the program to consumers, because of offsetting factors ..."

Whether consumers may be saved a cent or two on the price of gasoline, as a consequence of changing U. S. national oil policy, is a wholly irrelevant concern compared to the larger issue of the adequacy of future petroleum supplies upon which the life of the nation depends. Any changes in regulatory or tax policies that rest on the self - serving basis of currying favor with consumers can hardly be defined as a national oil policy.

Near the end of a tense golf match, one contestant, very temperamental, was thrown off his game when his caddie developed a severe attack of hiccoughs. On the seventeenth hole he sliced his drive clean out of bounds and growled fiercely at the caddie, "That was on account of you and your blankatyblank hiccoughs."

"But I didn't hiccough then, sir," protested the caddie.

"That's just the point," screamed the player, "I had allowed for it!"

IN THE DARK

Two Hillbillies who had never been on a train before saved up enough for a trip to the big city. A lad selling bananas came through their car and each bought one.

Just as one bit into his banana the train entered a tunnel. His voice came to his companion in the darkness:

"Jed, have you eaten yours yet?"

"Not yet," answered Jed. "Why?"

THE ASWAN FIASCO

On January 15, Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat officially opened the Aswan High Dam. The Soviet journal NEW TIMES, called the dam "one of the greatest engineering accomplishments of the century." But the dam is looking more likea disaster than a great accomplishment.

Journalist Claire Sterling, in a news release put out by the freedomist Cardinal Mindszenty Foundation, pointed out the harm which will result becaue the Nile River no longer floods the valley: "Many of Egypt's 6 million cultivated acres need artificial fertilizer already....without the flood to wash salts away, soil salinity is already reaching ominous levels....'' According to agricultural experts, "millions of acres will be reduced to barren rubble in barely a decade" unless costly preventive measures are taken.

The Aswan Dam was also costly in terms of human life. In 1964, 220 Egyptians were killed when the Russian ordered the removal of dynamited rock without proper safety precautions, in their haste to complete the first stage before the spring rains.

In addition, the sediment formerly carried to the Mediterrean by the floods contained an important food source for ocean fish. Without this source, the fish catch in the area has been reduced by one-fifth.

The Soviets boasted of a great engineering achievement; yet much of it was brought about by non-Soviet equipment. When Russian equipment failed, they imported Swedish drills, British trucks and U.S. Caterpillar tractors.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON--Americans pay $7 billion a year in excess gas, oil and tires because their cars have hidden faults that a simple diagnostic test would turn up. This is the astonishing finding of Sen. Phil Hart's Anti-Trust Subcommittee, based on studies of car inspection and repair figures.

Even the new car buyer, Hart found, can't be sure he won't wind up with a wobbly wheeled, gas gulping, oil burning, chrome-plated lemon.

Hart's statisticians found that bad wheel alignment, dirty plugs, bum carburetor adjustment and the like cost drivers seven-tenths of a cent per mile. Applying this to the trillion miles a year driven by Americans, Hart reached his $7 billion figure.

The Michigan Senator's staff also has discovered that 50 per cent of all new cars and 90 per cent of five-year-and-older cars have safety defects.

To stem the costs and the fatalities, Hart wants to set up nationwide self-supporting diagnostic centers to inspect all newly-bought cars--old and new models alike--and to check repairs made on cars in crashes.

His dramatic statistics have been prepared for release to a meeting later this week of car makers, repairers, consumer men, auto diagnosticians and legislators.

Hart also plans to cite the shameful $8 billion to $10 billion, by his estimate, that Americans spend on shoddy, unneeded and undone car repairs.

--PRESIDENT'S NEWS--

We recently concluded from studying two of President Nixon's private news summaries that he gets a highly condensed view of the news. This has brought a response from White House aide Pat Buchanan, who prepares the President's news digests.

"Serious consideration has been given," wrote Buchanan, "to putting you on the list for the President's Daily News Summary--both in your interest and ours. Seriously, while the quotes taken from the news summary to date have been accurate, they have not been placed in their proper context, in our view...

"(You) noted that the most complex stories had been reduced to single paragraphs, and then went on to quote several. The quotes were accurate. What was in error was that this was not a typical news summary.'...

"The same day... the President also received his weekly magazine report running 27 pages double-space, his daily television report running 13 pages double-space, and his news 'top' which I draft at around seven in the morning, covering the major items in the Eastern press that morning and the Chicago Tribune.

"Finally, this is not an effort to engage in a quarrel, or do a little nitpicking or cavil on the ninth part of a hair. We think that seen in its entirety the President's Daily News Summary--a four- or five-part daily briefing running up to fifty pages--can stand the scrutiny of the most objective reporters."

—WASHINGTON WHIRL—

Julie's Junkets--One advantage of being Julie Nixon Eisenhower is that she can live with her Navy husband, David, at Virginia Beach and keep up her studies in Washington 150 miles away. Julie flies to Catholic University once a week in an Air Force plane to do graduate work in education. Then she zips back a day or two later to be housewife for David, who is attending a Navy navigation school at Dam Neck, Va. A White House spokesman explained that President Nixon, at the urging of the Secret Service and former President Johnson, tries to use Air Force transportation for his family rather than take security risks with ground transportation.

Missing Marker--J. Edgar Hoover, already furious over the burglaziring of an FBI field office, has hushed up another humiliating theft. His birth plaque is missing from its place of honor in Washington's Capitol Hill Methodist Church. The bronze marker, commemorating the birthplace of the revered FBI chief, disappeared several weeks ago from beneath the John Edgar Hoover Memorial Window. Rev. James P. Archibald, the pastor, reported the theft to the Washington police, not the FBI.

Alcoholics Insolvent--The White House, which has done a lot of preaching against alcoholism, has failed to request a penny to prevent alcoholism and to rehabilitate alcoholics.

This would be possible under the Alcohol Abuse Act, which Congress passed unanimously last year. Congress has also authorized $170 million for the program, but President Nixon still hasn't gotten around to asking for the money. Now Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, has appealed to Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., a power on the Senate Appropriations Committee, to fund the act without waiting for the President. In a private letter to Magnuson, Moss wrote angrily: "It is unbelievable that this important program has been shoved aside by this Administration without a single penny to carry out its urgent objectives."

Forest Foray--The South Vietnamese army's setback in Laos has been offset by unpublicized successes inside South Vietnam. The dreaded U Minh Forest with its dark mangrove swamps and maze of waterways, has been infested with Viet Cong for years. There is still talk in Saigon about an entire French paratroop battalion that made a foray into the forest and disappeared forever. A South Vietnamese infantry division, however, has been quietly clearing the Viet Cong out of the forest.

Wiretap Worry--The Justice Department has taken quiet steps to keep its cases from being thrown out of court because of wiretaps. Deputy Attorney General Richard Kliendienst issued an internal memo on March 10 assigning the Internal Security Division to work up the legal justification for telephone taps and electronic bugs. Explains a subsequent internal memo: "The Internal Security Division will review the pertinent materials in connection with the installation and overhearings and will furnish... appropriate legal memoranda and other pleadings necessary to deal with the legal contentions relating thereto."

'The Kid' Again: Powerful Bloc Inside Teamsters Set to Dump Jimmy Hoffa as He Sends Word He'll Run for President

Washington: -- There are those convicts who see Lewisburg Penitentiary as a gloomy prison. But to the graying Teamsters General President it is the aviary for his phoenix complex. So cocky is James Riddle Hoffa, so safe a haven does he consider the federal jail that he reported in a full day earlier than need be from his emergency furlough in San Francisco.

So certain is he that he will be free in a few months, he has told his old colleague, fifth vice prisident Harold Gibbons, that he will run for president again at the Teamsters Brotherhood July 5 Convention in Miami.

The lanky Gibbons listened, nodded to the bantam he used to call "the champ" or "the kid" and then reported back to the others in the Brotherhood's high command.

You better believe it, Jimmy Hoffa and his inner guard have been so cocky that they have spread word that the $100,000-a-year general president personally will accept the convention.s nomination on the stage of the Miami Auditorium.

For some time now they have been warning the anti-Hoffa phalanx that they will file an action with Federal Judge W. B. Austin in Chicago seeking a decision which would make Hoffa's five year mail fraud sentence concurrent with his current eight year sentence. Should this happen, "Jimmy" would be eligible for immediate parole. And they have asked Federal Judge Wilson to reopen the old Chattanooga case which ended in an eight year term. If Judge Wilson agrees, Hoffa could be out on bond immediately.

And the word is that presidential clemency is imminent. However, Jim Hoffa has not signed such a petition for forwarding to the U. S Pardon Attorney, Lawrence Traylor, in the Justice Dept.

The President does have the power to shorten or commute the tough little Teamster president's sentence -- under the Constitution's Article 2, Section 2. But word from the White House is there is no such inclination.

But none of this has discouraged "Jimmy H." He pranced and strutted about his 19th floor "garden room" in San Francisco's Hilton Hotel. He was in the hill town for some two days before the press got to him. Since there were no Justice Dept. restrictions on his activities he telephoned, conferred, cajoled, cussed and was his old self.

It was like old times with Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien at his side. The younger man is considered Jimmy's adopted son -- always with him when Hoffa is free. And Jimmy was his old self. Get that, do this, call so and so, don't ask questions. You know better than to ask. Do as you're told. Jimmy is as Jimmy does. But does he still have power?

This was to be settled the week of April 19 at the International Executive Board session in the Hotel Diplomat, Hollywood, Fla. Now the eyeball-to- eyeball confrontation has been postponed to May 10.

Then the question will be -- will the real Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons step forward? Teamster Acting President Fitz has done some psychological tailoring on himself. He came custom built -- as Jimmy's man. But the chair of the Teamster presidency is as powerful as it is big. And the office's picture window looks out on the power, if not the glory, of the U. S. -- Capitol Hill.

And "Fitz" has grown into the office, most of the Teamsters Executive Board say. He has mixed with the giants of labor and the industry's best golfers. And with the nation's chief executive. And even with Mr. Labor -- AFL-CIO President George Meany. A powerful combination indeed.

Fitz, portly, bespectacled and surrounded by a ghost writer -- or two or three -- has been spokesman for the free world's biggest union -- 2.1 million members. It is not inconsequential in the political, economic and industrail systems which make America viable. He ikes what he has. Who wouldn't.

He has said he would stand for president of the brotherhood.He would be silly if he believed that this wasn't observable. Recent issues of the Teamsters' magazine have hardly been laden with appeals for Jimmy's freedom.

On the other hand, the Communist line Daily World has called for an Angela Davis-type world alarum and network of demonstrations calling for Hoffa's release. And Harry Bridges' left-wing West Coast longshoremen and Executive Board have also demanded Hoffa's freedom -- bold type, oo.

So Jimmy Hoffa has sent word he wants Fitz out. But the earth isn't trembling. The Executive Board isn't quivering. The vice presidents aren't shaking.

There is, in fact, growing opposition to James Riddle Hoffa.

Jimmy must wince at the anti-Hoffa literature. It hits him as hard as he has hit others. Little Atlas can't shrug this off. The anti-Hoffa coalition must believe itself powerful. Otherwise it would not chance delving into Jimmy's private and personal life as they are.

It was all to be settled this week. But the Executive Board meeting was postponed three weeks so the trauma of Jimmy's freedom week and the sympathy for his ailing wife would not affect the battle.

And a battle it will be. Jimmy is not without his allies in the political world and one far more submerged. But neither is the opposition lacking in power. Mr. Fitzsimmons has opened the gates to the White House, to the House of Labor on 16th St. here and to the arena of respectability. The Teamster leadership has had enough of turbulence. They don't want to run no more -- and they know much of their future battle fatigue depends on who runs for president in July.

Watch for the fireworks.

Ann Landers

Passage of Cancer Bill Urgent

Dear Readers: If you are looking for a laugh today, you'd better skip Ann Landers. If you want to be part of an effort that might save millions of lives -- maybe your own -- please stay with me.

Who among us has not lost a love one to cancer? Is there a single person in my reading audience so incredibly lucky that his life has not been changed in some way by this dread disease? More Americans died of cancer in 1969 than were killed in the four years of World War II. Of the 200 million Americans alive today, 50 million will develop cancer. Approximately 34 million will die of it. Cancer claims the lives of more children under 15 years of age than any other illness.

How many of use have asked the question, "If this great country of ours can put a man on the moon why can't we find a cure for cancer?" One reason is that we have never launched a national campaign, a united effort, against this killer disease. Another reason is money. The funds designated for medical research in America is grossly inadequate. Government grants for medical research have virtually dried up. The lion's share of the tax dollar is going to defense.

The following statistics shook me. They tell an interesting (and shameful) story about the priorities in this country. In 1969, for every man, woman and child in the United States our government spent:

$125 on the war in Vietnam
$19 on the space program
$10 on foreign aid
89 cents on cancer research

Soon a bill will come before the United States Senate which calls for the establishment of a National Cancer Authority. This bill, S-34 will be sponsored by Senators Edward Kennedy and Jacob Javits. The proposed National Cancer Authority would be an agency similar to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) which put men on the moon. This Conquest of Cancer bill demands that the highest priority be given to devise better methods of prevention, diagnoisis and cure of cancer at the earliest possible date.

Today you have the opportunity to be a part of the mightiest offensive against a single disease in the history of our country. If enough citizens let their senators know they want Bill S-34 passed, it will pass.

I urge each and every person who reads this column to write to his two senators at once -- or better yet, send telegrams. If you don't know the names of your two senators, call your newspaper and ask the switchboard operator. Address your letter or telegram to: Senator _____, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20510.

Your message need consist of only three words. "Vote for S-34." And sign your name, please.

No one can do everything, but each of us can do something. It is entirely possible that this one small act could reshape the lives of millions. Get moving. My telegrams to Senators Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson went out last night.

Thanks -- and God bless.

Tips for Cleaning Area Rugs

Bath mats and area rugs up to 4' x 6' can be cleaned in your washing machine. The secret to restoring new beauty to small rugs is to wash them in neutral (mild) detergent and tumble dry. If tumbling action is not available, hang or spread rugs in the shade until they are dry, then brush them lightly with a stiff brush. Forced air from a vacuum or fan is helpful.

Because dyes and colors in floorcoverings, as in all types of furnishings materials, have a tendency to bleed, classify colors before placing rugs in the washing machine. Whites and very light colors may be washed together, while dark colors should be washed separately.

Crafts Are Alive and Well

By AP Newsfeatures

It may be the machine age, and the dawning of total technology, but some dropouts from the computer society are resisting in an intensely creative way.

These people are making things with their own hands: one of a kind desks, salad bowls, wall hangings, necklaces, chests of drawers, urns, boxes, drinking glasses, chairs and vases. Some are functional, others are for esthetics, but each is a personal statement.

In celebration of this event is Objects USA, a collection of 20th century crafts, assembled by Lee Nordness, whose gallery has hosted many craft exhibits, and Paul Smith of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts. The exhibit is sponsored by Johnson Wax Co., and now there is a book, "Objects USA," which shows many of the objects and gives biographies of their creators. The exhibit opened at the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, D.C. and will travel to museums and colleges across the country.

All the media — enamel, wood, fiber, glass, ceramics, plastic, mosaic and metal — are represented. And there is something for everyone. There's humor, wit, sophistication, whimsy; there are examples of traditional, funk, camp, avant garde objects, all of which show a high quality of skill.

The Rev. Thomas Bass, minister of the Hunter Memorial First Presbyterian church, is in Lafayette, La. this week to be with his father, Linas Bass, who recently underwent surgery for cancer and is now taking cobalt treatment.

Men's Wear Changing

While the furore kicked up over midi lengths in women's wear has dominated most of the recent fashion headlines, a radical revolution taking place in men's wear has gone almost unnoticed.

Virtually every garment in the male wardrobe has undergone a change in design, fabric, color, style, and even feel. Fashion has shifted gears to keep pace with today's earth-orbiting male.

The spring outlook in men's wear is for clothes cut along clean, classic lines but with free-wheeling mobility and super-graphic designs. Most popular suits and jackets are the two-button shaped models with wide notched lapels.

In keeping with the current trend to environmental living and the return to the natural elements, cotton—a natural winner—is clocking in with a new perspective to earn Grand Prix status on fashion's fast track.

They're graphically turned on by sophisticated printing techniques that produce large scale linear or angular designs, vari-shaped geometrics, computer dots, diamond checks, stripes, paisleys, and herringbone patterns.

Whether woven or knit, cotton's incomparable comfort makes it a natural for tailored business or evening suits, stylish blazer jackets, shorts, shirts, and slacks for put-together sports coordinates.

COCO CHANEL

THE FASHION DESIGNER

I was pleased to see the stage show about this energetic woman who made herself famous in the field of fashion. The role of Coco Chanel was portrayed by Katherine Hepburn. It was a thrill to me to see her in person and she was as dynamic on stage as she has been on the screen. As always Katherine Hepburn appeared as a woman who is independent, determined, dedicated to her cause — who seems unyielding, yet sooner or later shows her soft heart. Coco Chanel was that kind of woman, which is probably why she survived in the field of fashion designing. Coco never yielded to the so-called fads, as she believed in casual elegance and her creations proved that this is lasting. The "chanel" jacket is still a part of our fashion look. She also believed a woman should have a certain fragrance about her and so she produced "Chanel No. 5". The stage play brought out incidents in her life that started fashion trends. Once, when she was surrounded by people, she awkwardly fell and was exposed. She said this would not have been embarassing if she had been dressed as a man, so she created "women's slacks". Another time her female rival received from Coco's boyfriend a large but real diamond ring. To out do her rival, Coco appeared at a party with even larger jewelry, only it was fake — hence, costume jewelry. Coco's mourning was so strong when she lost a loved one that her mood carried through into her designing — she created a fashion that has lasted for years — "the basic black dress". On stage the models actually "flowed" across the room, moving so gracefully that it was beautiful to behold. At different intervals they would stand so still they appeared as mannequins in store windows.

Speaking of store windows, have you seen the lingerie in our middle window? It is so bright and colorful that we have even had comments that they thought it was swimwear. However, we do have swimwear that would be just a little more concealing. Take note of this lingerie, as it makes for good gift giving for graduation.

Giants Extend Lead, Post 9th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manager Charlie Fox of the San Francisco Giants likes the comparison between his surging 1971 club and Cincinnati's Big Red Machine of 1970.

"I'd like to get out in front, like Cincinnati did last year, and stay there. I don't care if we don't have a close race," Fox quipped after the Giants extended their winning string to nine games with a 4-2 victory over St. Louis Monday.

The triumph boosted the Giants' record to 12-2 and their National League West lead to 3½ games over idle Atlanta.

In waltzing to the division flag by 14½ games last season, the Reds jumped off to a 10-4 start after 14 games. And the Giants have done much of their recent damage with ailing Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson out of the lineup.

Fox sends Juan Marichal, 3-0, against the Cards Reggie Cleveland, 0-2, tonight.

When asked for the reason behind San Francisco's swift get away, Fox declared, "Our defense has been great, the bullpen has picked us up when we have needed it, and the hitting has been great too."

All three factors were in evidence Monday. The Giants played errorless ball and registered two double plays, running their total to 22 in 14 games.

Dick Dietz collected a pair of run-scoring singles and Bobby Bonds blasted his fifth home run, giving him 18 runs scored, a league high mark.

But the bullpen was the key. Left-hander Ron Bryant replaced Frank Reberger with two on and no outs in the first and struck out eight Cardinals while going nine innings.

Reberger was taken out after suffering a shoulder strain. Bryant's one-run relief lowered the bullpen's ERA to 1.42, five earned runs in 31 2-3 innings.

Elsewhere on a slim major league schedule, Los Angeles defeated San Diego 3-2, Minnesota outlasted Kansas City 9-8 and Cleveland nipped Boston 5-4 in 13 innings.

the Padres took a 2-0 lead off Don Sutton in the first inning on four singles and a walk, but the Dodgers bounced back with a run in the third on doubles by Willie Davis and Wes Parker. They won it in the eighth when Davis and Parker singled and, after a sacrifice and an intentional walk, Billy Grabarkewitz lashed a two-run double.

Harmon Killebrew drove in six runs as Minnesota built a 9-0 lead and then survived a Kansas City counter-attack, including Bob Oliver's grand slam homer.

Killebrew delivered a two-run single in the first, a run-scoring grounder in the second and his second homer of the season, a three-run shot, in the third. The Royals nicked Jim Kaat for a run in the fourth and chased him with a seven-run outburst in the fifth.

Roy Foster's two-run homer in the 13th inning lifted Cleveland past Boston in the Red Sox' annual Patriots Day game. The homer, off Bill Lee, followed a lead off walk to Graig Nettles. The Sox scored a run in their half of the inning before Ray Lamb picked up the final out with two runners aboard.

Former Red Sox slugger Ken Harrelson put the Indians in front with a three-run homer in the fourth but Boston tied it with two in the sixth and an unearned tally in the eighth.

Bullets Claim Eastern Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee?" said Gene Shue, a weary grin spreading across his face. "I'm not even thinking about the Bucks. I'm too happy!"

The often volatile coach looked as exhausted and elated as his Baltimore Bullets Monday night after they finally gained two seasons worth of revenge against the New York Knicks.

The Bullets, withstanding a four-quarter rally on the court—and game-long pandemonium by the 19,500 fans surrounding it in Madison Square Garden—beat the Knicks 93-91 for the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference crown.

That sends the Bullets into the best-of-seven championships against the Bucks, who cruised to the Western title by conquering the San Francisco Warriors and Los Angeles Lakers in five games apiece.

The confrontation begins Wednesday night in Milwaukee, nationally televised by ABC—as all the championship games will be—starting at 9 p.m., EST.

In Monday night's only other playoff action, Ray and Charlie Scott tossed in 30 points apiece as the Virginia Squires defeated Kentucky 150-137 to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven American Basketball Association Eastern Division finals. Utah, leading the Western series 2-1, hosts Indiana tonight.

Baltimore was shooting not only for the chance to face Milwaukee—the winningest team in the NBA this season—but for a chance to end frustration that began with the 1968-69 season.

They won the regular-season Eastern title that time only to be knocked out by the thirdplace Knicks in four straight games in the first round of playoffs.

Then, last year, after losing five of six regular-season games to the Knicks, Baltimore again faced them in the first round—and again the Bullets lost, this time in seven games.

This season the Knicks again dominated, beating the Bullets in four of six games, then taking the first two playoff games in New York.

Baltimore finally woke up at home however, and smothered the Knicks twice to even the series. Each team then won its next home game to set up the finale.

The Knicks had held leads of 21-19 after one period and 47-43 after two. But a foul shot and two field goals put the Bullets in front in the opening minutes of the third quarter and they pulled away to a seven-point lead—the biggest by either team—in its closing seconds.

New York slowly battled back and finally went in front 88-87 with 2:44 to go on a lay-in by Dick Barnett, New York's top scorer with 26 points.

But Monroe, who topped Baltimore with 26, got the Bullets back on top with a 15-foot jimper just 10 seconds later and they stayed there the rest of the way.

Fred Carter's 19-footter with about a minute to play was the decided, giving them a 93-89 lead. Walt Frazier got the Knicks back within a basket moments later and the flashy guard, using center Willis Reed as a shield, was supposed to shoot for the equalizer when they got the ball with 11 seconds to play.

But the Baltimore defense stiffened and Frazier was forced to pass to Bill Bradley, whose 15-footer was tipped by Wes Unseld and fell short.

"I'm realizing it slowly, but it'll be a few days before I really feel it," Frazier said. "But the hard part comes when I have to watch the championship series on television."

And Reed, who hit 24 despite being hobbled by bad knees and a painful right shoulder, added: "Everything being equal, they outplayed us in the series. If they play as well as they did against us, they could give Milwaukee a real battle."

WOKING, England (AP) — Television rental manager John Easterbrook reported to Surrey police an unusual robbery at his shop.

Thieves took six unusable color sets from the display window, he said, and put in two sets of their own as replacements — each worth $750 and in perfect working order.

Cowens, Petrie Share NBA Rookie Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Rugged Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics and sharp-shooting Geoff Petrie of the Portland Trail Blazers shared Rookie of the Year honors today, the first such deadlock in the history of the National Basketball Association.

Cowens, a 6-foot-9 center who scored 17 points and grabbed 15 rebounds a game, and Petrie, a 6-4 guard with a 24.8 point a game average, each drew 36 votes inthe balloting by sportswriters and sportscasters in the 17 league cities.

Third in the voting was the pre-season favorite, Pete Maravich of Atlanta, who drew 21 votes, while Calvin Murphy of San Diego had four and Bob Lanier of Detroit one.

Last year's winner was Lew alcindor.

Boston, choosing fourth in the 1970 college draft, selected Cowens of Florida State on the first round. While the Celtics later hope to move the red-haired Cowens to forward, he did a good job at center and gave the Celtics the rebounding they badly needed. With him, they turned a 34-48 record in 1969-70 into a 44-38 mark last season.

Petrie of Princeton, Portland's top choice on the first round as the No. 8 pick, helped the expansion club win 29 games as he gunned in baskets from all over the floor.

Tom Heinsohn in 1956-57 was the only other Boston player ever to win the honor.

Braves Edge Oran

By BILL HARRISON

ORAN — The Scott Central Braves sqeaked home a run in the seventh inning to take a 2-1 Scott -Mississippi conference baseball win from the Oran Eagles Monday afternoon.

Rick Irwin and Charles Watson hooked up in a pitching duel. Irwin allowed three hits for Oran and Watson gave up two for the Braves.

Scott Central took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second inning and held it until the fourth when the Braves pushed across their only run to know the score 1-1.

Neither team couldplate another run until the seventh when with Scott Central up, Popst reached first base and was there when Alcorn struck out. The catcher dropped the ball allowing Pobst to go to second on an error.

Pobst then attempted to steal third and the catcher committed his second error of the inning by throwing wildly into left field allowing Pobst to score the winning run. Oran was unable to score in the final half of the inning.

Rick Irwin was the losing pitcher. He now stands 1-1 for the season. Oran is 3-2 overall and in second place at 2-2 in the conference.

Charles Watson was the winner for the Scott CentralBraves.

The Eagles' next game will be at Kelly Tuesday afternoon. Delta will visit Scott Central Friday for a conference bout.

Ali Makes Final Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief lawyer for Muhammad Ali has told the Supreme Court the government's case against the former heavyweight champ is wrapped in prejudice.

According to Chauncey Eskridge, Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold's arguments against the fighter's appeal of a draft evasion conviction was filled with bias against both Ali and his black Muslim religion.

Griswold denied the claim as both sides stated their arguments Monday before the Supreme Court.

Eskridge told the high court Ali was opposed to fighting all but holy wars—those declared by Allah.

Ali was not present for the 60-minute session before eight justices. The ninth justice, Thurgood Marshall, disqualified himself apparently because he was U.S. solicitor general when Ali's case was brought before the government.

Eskridge said the key issue was whether the Justice Department misled the Kentucky Selective Service Board of Appeals in a letter saying Ali was not sincere in his Muslim beliefs.

Griswold maintained Ali's objections to serving were based on "political and philosophical" views that don't fall under conscientious objector status.

Ali was heavyweight champion when he was drafted. Refusing induction at a Houston draft center in April 1967, he was convicted and sentenced to five years in jail.

He has been free on $5,000 bond as the case moved through lengthy appeals.

Monday's court activities were the last available to Ali.

A decision is expected in June.

Pope Chided for Audience With Girls in Hot Pants

ROME (AP) — A Rome newspaper lectured Pope Paul VI today for receiving in audience rock music groups that included two girls wearing hot pants. It said that at this rate he'd be greeting strippers at the Vatican one day.

But another paper praised the Pope and said he was just "trying to understand the modern world."

The right-wing daily Il Tempo published the rare public criticism of the Pope in a frontpage editorial commenting on Friday's audience. The newspaper, which has frequently attacked liberal trends in the church, often reflects the opinions of a small circle of conservatives within the Vatican.

Il Tempo recalled that the Pope once held an audience for Italian actresses—including Claudia Cardinale, who wore miniskirts that displayed "their prosperous and most appetizing thighs."

It expressed shock that on Friday he received girls wearing hot pants that showed legs "up to the groin."

English, French and Italian rock groups were received by the Pope in the Vatican's austere Clementine Hall. The Pope told them he couldn't appreciate their music but praised them for trying to promote peace.

The Vatican's spokesman, Federico Alessandrini, suggested Il Tempo's attack on the Pope was in bad taste. But he told newsmen that this was his personal view and that the Vatican had no official comment.

$1.5-Billion Transit System Recommended for St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A tomorrowland-type rapid transit system costing at least $1.5 billion has been recommended for metropolitan St. Louis by the Bi-State Development Agency.

The report said about twothirds of the system's cost could be provided by the federal government, leaving about $500 million to be raised locally.

An 86-mile rail system would be complemented by improved bus networks, subways and aerial tranportation, the report said.

It said the system could be in partial operation within eight years.

The report was the last of a series of studies prepared for the agency by two planning firms.

Copies were sent Friday to area transportation firms, government and civic leaders for review.

The report said by 1990 the system could be serving about 600,000 passengers daily on both sides of the Mississippi River.

No specific recommendations on financing were made. However, the report suggested some type of area-wide referendum probably would be needed to get the system under way.

Proposals called for about 60 stations in the transit system and a possible 14-mile link from downtown St. Louis to Kirkwood, in St. Louis County.

The St. Louis-Kirkwood run would operate on existing railroad track, the report said.

Experts Say Drought Not Serious as Yet

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) —Little rainfall since early March is beginning to threaten the crop outlook in Missouri, but experts say the lack of moisture is not yet as serious as shrinking farm ponds and creeks may make it appear.

"With few local exceptions," says a spokesman for the National Weather Service, "precipitation through most of the winter was below normal or close to normal," but the shortage is not serious as far as subsoil moisture is concerned.

Reason for the relative security is that during September-October most of the state had much more rain than usual for that time of year, ranging up to almost 6 inches in the west Ozarks region, 5 in the east Ozarks, and just under 5 in the Bootheel.

"We're not hurting yet, but if the dry period continues a week or two more we will continue to lose some of that' said Dr. James McQuigg of the atmospheric science department at the University of Missouri-Columbia Friday.

As McQuigg was talking the weather service was predicting most of the state would get some moisture in the period Friday night through Sunday.

McQuigg pointed out there is another aspect to the situation in that at this time of year with longer periods of daylight and sun, and evaporative winds the loss of moisture from topsoil is much more rapid than during the winter or on those days when there is a lot of cloud cover. The beginning of the growth and vegetative period, he said, also draws moisture from the soil.

Agriculturally speaking, McQuigg said, relatively dry conditions have been a benefit in that a lot of field work has been done that could not have been completed if there had been a lot of snowfall during the winter or excess rainfall during early spring.

"After a very, very wet fall, farmers needed some dry periods to get into the fields," McQuigg said and "They're not hurting yet considering everything."

McQuigg said the relatively dry period this spring has also helped in fighting southern corn leaf blight. One thing recommended was that farmers get fields cleaned up as quickly as possible and the dryness encouraged that.

The latest crop weather report of the Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service noted that after the first 10 days of April pastures remained in fair condition, but they needed moisture for added growth.

As far as ground preparation was concerned the estimate was that 70 per cent of the state's plowing was completed before the first two weeks of April was over, about 4 per cent more than is normally accomplished by that time.

With all of the experts' optimism, however, the average observer will feel a lot more confident if the rains predicted for this weekend are enough to bring water levels back up on the ponds and lakes of the state.

Money Taken At Bloomfield

Stoddard County Sheriff Edsel Edwards, whose office is investigating, said entry apparently was gained through an adjoining insurance agency office.

Glass was removed from the back door of the Stoddard County Insurance Co., he said. Mrs. Grace Hester, owner of the restaurant, told authorities the intruders probably entered her business by climbing over the partition separating the two establishments.

Spray Believed Safe, Drainage Chief Explains

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Earl Schultz, chief engineer for the Little River Drainage District headquartered here, said the district had no intention of harming fish and animals by spraying area drainage ditches last month.

A. J. Seier, Cape Girardeau county prosecuting attorney, has filed charges against the district charging it willfully and unlawfully sprayed a herbicide-fuel oil mixture which killed an estimated 65,000 fish.

"When we purchased that stuff (the herbicide) we believed it was safe for everything," Schultz said. The business from which the material was purchased indicated it was safe for spraying along ditches, he added.

Fish kills were estimated at 25,000 in Cape Girardeau and Stoddard Counties and 40,000 in New Madrid County. Charges have been filed only in Cape Girardeau County. The district, which drained most of the swampland of southeast Missouri many years ago, is supported by property taxes. It maintains the network of drainage ditches.

Economic Affairs Dept. Would Lump Special-Interest Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Nixon's proposed Department of Economic Affairs would swallow up a maze of special-interest agencies, old inhabitants of the federal bureaucratic jungle.

Parts of the departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Labor and Transportation would be swept into a single unit, along with a group of smaller, singlepurpose agencies.

The attempt to bring these agencies together may explain some of the opposition to Nixon's sweeping plan to reorganize the federal government.

For one thing, Congress is organized that way. Many committee chairmen are said to fear they would lose their niche if their special agency were eliminated or combined with another department.

For another thing, the agencies have developed their own constituencies—almost a customer-salesman relationship.

A small businessman looking for a loan to help out his faltering business naturally comes to the Small Business Administration, a big businessman to the Department of Commerce. A union leader would go to the Labor Department, and a farmer to Agriculture.

The proglem, Nixon administration officials say, is that these departments have many overlapping programs and sometimes work at cross-purposes.

For example, they say, the Commerce Department recently loaned a group of Eskimos $650,000 to outfit a barge that could freeze and store salmon. At the same time, the Small Business Administration financed a land-based storagefreezer plant in direct competition with the barge. The SBA loan went into liquidation.

Along with pulling some of the programs together, the department's creation would make it more effective in establishing economic policy, officials say.

Because Labor and Commerce are so fragmented, the job of making and carrying out economic policy has largely gone to the White House or the Treasury. An Economic Affairs Department would be a more powerful spokesman for the agencies it represents.

From the standpoint of employes, the Economic Affairs Department would be the biggest Nixon proposes, with 161,200 workers, including 39,000 in the Coast Guard.

Almost all the present Commerce Department would be included in the new agency. From the Labor Department would come the Bureau of International Labor Affairs, Labor-Management Services Administration, Workplace Standard Administration, Bureau of Labor Statistics and Occupational Health and Safety.

Agriculture would contribute services relating to farm productivity, economy stabilization and marketing, such as the Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Stabilizatio n and Conservation Service, crop insurance, economic research, statistics, and the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Federal Highway Administration, Federal Aviation Administration, Highway Safety Administration, Coast Guard and Federal Railroad Administration would be key Transportation agencies brought into the department.

The Samll Business Administration, now a separate agency, would be swallowed up as would the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The National Institute for Occupational Health and Safety would be taken from Health, Education and Welfare.

The new department would be organized along functional lines, much the same as in the old agencies.

While the Economie Affairs Department would be biggest in terms of size, its budget would be only second largest—$10.8 billion compared with the proposed Human Resources Department budget of $23.6 billion.

Officials say one problem likely to develop is naming a person to head the Economic Affairs agency.

Should it be someone associated with farming, as is now the case with Agriculture, or business, as is the case with Commerce?

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans said none of the present Cabinet members whose jobs would be eliminated by the plan should be considered to head the new department.

That would eliminate the impression one department is being taken over by the other, he said.

Costumes To Be Worn In New Madrid

NEW MADRID— The New Madrid Jaycees have announced that starting Monday, woman and men who are wearing costumes of the early 1800s in observance of the Missouri Sesquicentennial will be judged and prizes awarded each week.

Citizens may wear period costumes to call attention to a series of events to be presented by the Jaycees May 15 and 16, in commemoration of the 150th birthday of the state.

It is not necessary that citizens register as they will be judged by some local persons who are usually alert to those people appearing on New Madrid's Main Street.

Phone Rates Up in Cape

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Rate increases ranging from 10 cents to $1.05 for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. customers in the Cape Girardeau-McClure, Ill., area will become effective June 15.

Kenneth Hartung, Southwestern Bell manager said today the rate increases resulted from an "unprecedented growth in the number of telephones in the Cape Girardeau calling area."

The increases become automatic under Missouri Public Service Commission rulings because the numer of telephones in the affected area has passed 30,000.

All customers involved in the rate adjustment will be notified by letter, Hartung said.

Whitworth Speaks to Students

COLUMBIA--Lennie O. Whitworth, Jr., of Buchmueller, Whitworth and Foust, Inc., Sikeston, Mo., and Clarence Lee Sherrill of Cape Redi-Mix, Cape Girardeau, spoke at the student chapter meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the University of Missouri Tuesday.

Whitworth and Sherrill described the Tower High Rise dormitories project on the campus of Southeast Missouri State College. Major problems encountered included the design of a building to stand on a major earth fault, the result of the New Madrid earthquake on December 16, 1811, and meeting a seven-month construction deadline. These campus structures were of poured concrete framework, exposed-aggregate precast slabs, and white Portland cement concrete wall panels.

To the Editor:

I am a representative of the Alpha Psi Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma, a national service sorority. Our chapter, which is located at the campus of Southeast Missouri State College, would like to ask for some help from the citizens of Sikeston.

At the present time we are conducting a drive for Betty Crocker Coupons. All of the coupons collected will be donated to David Wade, a senior at Memphis State College. General Mills has pledged this young man a kidney machine upon receipt of 600,000 coupons. Without this machine David will die. Presently there are three colleges collecting coupons and the halfway mark has been reached; but the deadline of May is getting near.

Anyone that would like to contribute some coupons and help save David's life, please send them to:

Dear Mr. Blanton

You no doubt get letters once in a while telling you what a good fellow you are, but I suspect that you hear from the "other kind" pretty often, and certainly more promptly. I must admit, that even I have procrastinated (big word ain't it) for a few days before getting around to writing. Anyway, what I want to say is the committee for our Easter Sunrise Service at New Madrid thinks "The Standard" did an outstanding job of publicizing our Easter program and we want you to know it.

Having the fine reporting team of Nadine and Bud Townsend here in New Madrid representing both of us, made the deal no coincidence, we realize. It is little wonder that the people of New Madrid like to read your paper. So we will say the only thing, better than just a plain thank you, that can be said to a newspaper publisher, and that is "you just keep printin' 'em, and we'll keep readin' 'em."

We had a wonderful crowd from all over our area and believe that The Sikeston Standard did its' share in getting them here, and the BIG spread you did on the program itself was great. We think you're a nice guy Charley Blanton.

Very truly yours,
Harold Sloas

Dear Sir—

I would like to express my thanks and appreciation for the new TV supplement.

We do most of our shopping in Sikeston and shall make every effort to patronize the advertisers in TeleViewing.

We moved to New Madrid 1½ yrs. ago from St. Louis. At first I missed the St. Louis Post and Globe Democrat. But not any more. I'm very happy with the Daily Standard.

Good luck and thanks.

BUICK BARGAIN DAYS ARE HERE

Buick Bargain Days are saving days.

A bargain price on a stripped-down car is no bargain.
But a Buick or Opel at a bargain is something else again.
Because we're not selling some special stripped-down model.
We're selling Buicks and Opels, the same great cars we've sold all year.
With one difference. The deals have never been better.
Which means that you can move out in a new Buick or Opel at a price that's hard to believe.
When Buick talks about a bargain, we give you something to believe in.

Opel 1900 Sport Coupe. With a 1.9 liter engine that operates efficiently on low-lead or no-lead gasolines, hydraulic valve lifters for quiet engine operation, power front disc brakes and more.

Skylark Custom. With Buick's exclusive nickel-plated engine exhaust valves for smoother operation on today's cleaner fuels. Comfort-Flo ventilation system and more.

Your Buick-Opel dealer will give you better reasons to buy a new car now than anybody else.

The business of auto safety.

Auto safety is everyone's concern. But it's our business.

And we think the attention that's being paid to auto safety now is a good thing. Because it will result in better driving for everyone.

And, frankly, better driving for everyone means better business for us.

We say Buick is something to believe in. That's why we're trying to make it easy to be safe by putting in safety features that work by themselves. You don't have to do anything to make them work.

Like side guard beams. And the energy absorbing steering column. And the cargo guard between the trunk and back seat. They start "working" even before you get in the car.

But two safety features, two of the most vital, are worthless unless you do something first.

Seat and shoulder belts.

Unfastened they do nothing. And you've seen enough statistics to know what a difference they can make. So use them.

But that's not all you can do. Because the most effective safety feature of all can't be added to our cars or anybody else's.

That feature is you. And the way you drive.

Which should be defensively. And rested. And sober.

We're all in this together. And together we can solve the auto safety problem once and for all.

And the time is now.

$500.00-A-MONTH TAX-FREE CASH WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

–Only 25¢ covers your entire family for the first month

★ Pays you cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for each hospital stay...even for life, if necessary.

★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—including Medicare.

★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to doctor or hospital).

★ Guaranteed Renewable for Life. National Home guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you become or how many claims you have.

No salesman will call—No medical examination required—No age limit

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 22, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you – or some beloved member of your family–tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? Many have learned the hard way that public and private insurance pays only 40% of the nation's total medical care bill. What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in our National Home plan that Pays you $500.00-a-month tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have $500.00 cash coming in every month when you go to the hospital. You get your $500.00-a-month cash – tax-free – as long as you are confined in the hospital. You are covered from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.

Now, this low-cost plan from National Home enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Your introductory rate is just 25¢ for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then, you may continue at National Home's regular low rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this $500.00-a-month plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Use the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage or rent payments, to replace savings—or any necessary, but costly, expenses not covered by other hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why National Home developed this low-cost plan that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses.

We can never cancel your policy!

You can count on this wonderful protection no matter how old you become or how many times you collect from us. Your policy guarantees that we can never cancel your protection for any reason whatsoever. It is Guaranteed Renewable for Life!

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family – this policy (NH10-669) . . .

PAYS $500.00-A-MONTH CASH for each accident or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.

PAYS $250.00-A-MONTH CASH for the first three months, when you're 65 or over. And a full $500.00-A-MONTH CASH thereafter—even for life. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.

PAYS $300.00-A-MONTH CASH if a covered child is hospitalized for injury or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital. And the benefits continue for as long as necessary.

PAYS $2,000.00-A-MONTH CASH when both husband and wife (under age 65) are hospitalized at the same time for accidental injury for as long as both remain in the hospital—even for life, if necessary.

PAYS $400.00-A-MONTH CASH for a registered nurse at home if your doctor has you hire one within five days following a covered hospital confinement of five days or more.

PAYS up to $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

65 OR OVER? YOU COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

We have designed this plan as a valuable addition to whatever is paid by Medicare–or health insurance you may have with any other companies. In fact, combined public and private insurance covers only about 57% of the total medical costs for people 65 or over. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. In addition to any benefits you may receive from Medicare, this National Home plan pays you at the rate of $250.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $500.00 monthly while hospitalized thereafter . . . even for life if necessary!

Pays you $300.00-a-month cash whenever any dependent child is hospitalized.

When you choose Coverage for Children, all your unmarried dependent children from age one month through 18 years are covered, too! What's more, any newborn children you have in the future are covered automatically at the age of one month –at no additional cost to you. And whenever any of your children go to the hospital, this National Home plan pays you at the rate of $300.00-a-month cash, for as long as necessary. Children are covered for accidents from the first day and for sickness from the sixth day.

Pays you tax-free cash Maternity Benefits, too.

With this plan, you can also collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for every day you are confined to the hospital for pregnancy, childbirth, or even miscarriage. You get this cash, which is yours to use as you see fit, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. Of course, both parents must be enrolled in this plan for the entire period of pregnancy.

Pays you $400.00-a-month cash for a Registered Nurse at Home.

Here's a wonderful "get well" benefit of this National Home plan: You collect cash benefits at the rate of $400.00 a month when your doctor has you employ a full-time registered nurse within five days after you come home, following a stay in the hospital of five days or more for which benefits were payable. You are paid for the same number of covered days that you were in the hospital—even up to 12 full months!

Double Cash Accident Benefit.

When you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, this National Home plan pays you an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. Your spouse receives not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. That's $2,000.00 in all, in cash payments to you every month (when under age 65) starting the day you enter the hospital for as long as you both remain there.

Pays you up to $2,000.00 cash for these accidental losses . . .

The accidental loss of limbs or eyesight can be terrible. But if such loss occurs any time within 90 days of the accident, you collect $1,000.00 for the complete loss of a hand or a foot or the sight of an eye–and $2,000.00 for loss of two limbs or the sight of both eyes.

Waiver of premium benefit.

Should you–the policyowner–be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Home plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself. Then, if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, we will again pay any premiums while you are in the hospital–for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your National Home policy covers every kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provison; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy . . . during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered.

Nationally known and respected.

This is the kind of outstanding protection you may have seen in Reader's Digest, Parents', National Geographic and other leading publications. The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states – and many foreign countries – paying benefits at the rate of more than $1,500,000.00 a month. In addition, our Company has a RECOMMENDED rating from Best's Insurance Reports, one of the foremost insurance authorities in the nation.

Fast, reliable claim service when needed most..

You never really know how good a policy is until you have to make a claim. That's why we think you'll be interested in what some of our National Home members have to say. Their comments–quoted below–are typical of the hundreds of expressions of appreciation we receive from policyowners every week.

"Received your checks totaling $585.68 for injury. I appreciated your kindness and promptness in the claim. It certainly came in handy and I had less worries knowing I had this protection. You certainly paid all the benefits stated in the policy without question." MRS. ANGELA B. HARDY, Abbeville, Louisiana

"You folks were very prompt in sending the money when my wife went to the hospital for surgery. Thank you so much." HAROLD DOVENBORG, Zanesville, Ohio

"I was more than satisfied with the way my claim was handled. One couldn't ask for better service and the 'get well soon' message was one of the nicest thoughts on your part. I thank you sincerely." MARGUERITE LINDAU, Duluth, Minnesota

Outstanding Americans like these Recommend this Coverage.

DR. E. STANLEY JONES, internationally known evangelist, author, missionary statesman: "In offering low-cost health insurance by mail, you are rendering a valuable service to thousands of people who have no other opportunity to avail themselves of such protection. It's reassuring to know that policyowners insured by the National Liberty group are receiving more than $1,500,000.00 a month in benefits."

JEROME HINES, leading bass with the Metropolitan Opera Company: "It seems to me that the concept of health insurance by mail is a very sensible one. It's quick, easy and economical. Nobody makes surprise visits to your home to ask personal questions. There's no medical examination. And costly processing charges are eliminated. This means more protection at less cost. I congratulate National Home Life Assurance Company for meeting a real need."

National Liberty Corporation, parent of National Home Life Assurance Company, has been commended in the United States Congressional Record for bringing low-cost insurance to the general public: "National Liberty deserves recognition for providing service beyond the expected, service willingly offered to those who are not being cared for in other ways. This is the secret of success for its low-cost insurance plans. With the highest public interest at heart, the National Liberty Corporation group of companies combines reliability and quality of service with noteworthy price advantages. It is to be commended on its leadership and vision in this field of human welfare."

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment Form—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to enroll in this plan? Because this is a guaranteed enrollment offer, we can open the enrollment only during a limited time period–with a firm deadline date for everyone. To provide you with this broad coverage at these rates, we must receive your Enrollment Form during the same period as all the others.

As soon as we receive your Enrollment Form we will rush your policy to you by First Class Mail. When your policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. It is a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to see there is no fine print. Show it, if you wish, to your doctor, lawyer, insurance agent, or some other trusted advisor.

Here are your low rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	only $2.95
45-49	only $3.40
50-54	only $3.75
55-74	only $4.35
75-79	only $5.00
80-84	only $5.55
85 and over	only $6.65

Only $1.55 more per month covers all your unmarried dependent children . . . from the age of one month through 18 years. Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month – at no additional cost. And then if you wish, just add $1.15 monthly to that, and you're covered for Maternity Benefits, too.

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this National Home plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

Act NOW—"Later" May Be Too Late!

Just 25¢ covers you and your family for first month.

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment Form into the mail today–because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today –before anything unexpected happens.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED ABOUT THIS NATIONAL HOME PLAN

1. How much will I be paid when I go to the hospital?

You will receive cash at the rate of $500.00 a month ($16.67 a day). When you're 65 or over, you collect (in addition to any Medicare benefits) $250.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $500.00 monthly while you remain continuously hospitalized thereafter. And you collect cash for an accident even if you're in the hospital for only one day. Coverage for illness begins the sixth day—and benefits are paid in full for as long as you're hospitalized . . . even for life, if necessary.

2. Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?

You collect cash at the rate of $300.00 a month whenever any of your children (age 1 month through 18 years) go to the hospital—if Coverage for Children is added to the basic plan. Coverage for accidents begins on the first day—sickness on the sixth day. And if you have a growing family—as soon as any newborn child is one month old, he, too, is covered—automatically . . . at no additional cost.

3. When do I start to collect hospital benefits?

This new plan (NH10-669) covers you from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.

4. Will you pay me cash benefits for pregnancy?

Yes, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. You collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this plan for entire pregnancy period.)

5. Suppose I'm hospitalized for a long time and can't meet my premium payments?

If you—the policyowner—are hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. You aren't expected to pay us back, either.

6. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your policy covers everything except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

7. What are the requirements to enroll in this National Home plan?

You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and to qualify during this Enrollment Period—you must enroll before midnight of the date shown on the Enrollment Form.

8. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages to joining this plan during this Enrollment Period?

Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a lengthy, detailed application—just the brief Enrollment Form in the corner of this page. Also, during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!

9. How do I enroll?

Combat Soldiers Get Tax Break

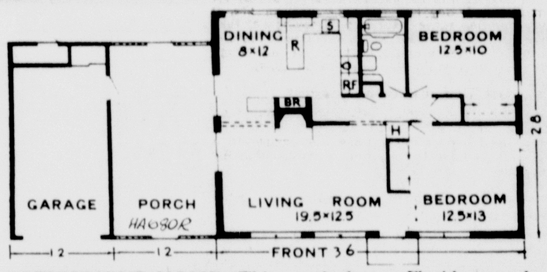
WASHINGTON (ANF) — A new rule has been adopted by the Treasury Department which extends combat zone tax benefits to military personnel who qualify for hostile fire pay outside the Republic of Vietnam.

The tax changes extend combat zone tax benefits to military personnel who qualified for hostile fire pay in the Cambodian operation and those who receive hostile fire pay while serving in Southeast Asia.

These members of the armed forces will receive the same income tax exclusion given to personnel in a designated combat zone. The pay for enlisted men and warrant officers will be exempt from federal income tax, while the first $500 a month of a commissioned officer's pay will be exempt.

The tax changes also provide certain benefits for the estate of servicemen killed while serving in the RVN combat zone. These include exemption from estate taxation in most cases and a refund of any income taxes paid since first entering a combat zone.

Under the amended rules, combat zone tax benefits will no longer be granted to military personnel who pass over or through a combat zone while making a trip between two points which lie outside the combat zone or who are in the zone solely for their own personal convenience.



RETIREMENT HOME: This two-bedroom Florida-type design has a rather small floor plan but is 28 x 36, plus porch and garage. The living room fireplace has a built-in barbecue handy to the U-shaped kitchen and dining room. This no-basement slab home with plaster walls inside and stucco exterior is estimated to cost about $15,000 plus a minimum 75 x 125 plot. MODERN CINDERELLA

This interesting flower is the new double Gloriosa daisy, easily grown from seeds. It will bloom this summer if you sow them as soon as the soil dries.

Every youngster knows black-eyed-susan, summer wild flower of open fields. But even some dyed-in-the-wool gardeners don't realize what plant breeders have produced from this humble wildling.

These high-toned relatives are called Gloriosa daisies and their 5-inch-wide blooms dwarf those of black-eyed susan. Some have golden yellow flowers with a dark brown center "eye". A new variety, Irish Eyes, has a green "eye". Other varieties are "zoned" with mahogany red toward the center of each flower, golden yellow towards the outer edge of each petal. This variety is named Pinwheel.

The newest Gloriosa daisy is even further removed from its origins for it has either semi-double or fully double flowers, also golden yellow. When they are entirely open a dark brown, velvety center may show.

All Gloriosa daisy flowers, single or double, are borne on the same sturdy plants and stiff stems that mark the wild black-eyed-susan. Flowers open all summer long and continue even into fall. If you sow seeds as soon as soil dries you can have blooms in your garden this year.

There has been much debate about whether Gloriosa daisies are annual, biennial or perennial. Plants winter over from fall-sown seeds to bloom the following year. In some climates they then die. In other areas they come up from the roots year after year. You'll have to find, by trial and error, how they perform where you live.

But don't miss growing them. They're really spectacular.

David Will Head Study

JEFFERSON CITY--Thomas A. David, director of highways, has been named to head Missouri's participation in a national transportation needs study. The study will include all forms of transportation, including mass transit and airports, as well as highways.

David's appointment was made by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

When completed, the transportation study will be used to help make up a basis for legislative and expenditure recommendations to the President and the Congress.

The study is a result of one of the provisions of the 1970 Federal Aid Highway Act passed by Congress and signed by the President in December.

Each governor was asked to provide a representative to co-ordinate the study in his state.

David said the study would provide the first co-ordinated assessment of over-all transportation in Missouri and would be a big step toward helping make intelligent decisions on the state's transportation systems.

"I think our collective inability to see and accept transportation as a single system, requiring the integration and co-ordination of modes, is causing difficulty in some quarters. We have come a long way in the development of the various modes of transportation and I think this will help us reach a point where we can take an overall view of them."

David said the study will give considerable emphasis to the use of highway and street facilities by public transportation services.

Among the provisions of the 1970 Highway Act was permission to expend highway trust funds to construct lanes on freeways for exclusive or preferential use by buses under specific conditions; fringe parking facilities at gathering points along bus routes; highway traffic control devices; and busloading areas.

Also included will be a look at air strips, rapid transit, bridges and other capital improvements.

Rail facilities are excluded, as rail financing is being provided in a federal mass transit act.

Eventual goal of the planning is to provide a balanced transportation system which meets the needs of all residents of the state, according to David. He said the study was to be submitted to the Department of Transportation in Washington by February of next year and asked local planning groups to give their part in the study the highest priority in order to meet the federal deadline.

KOREANIZATION is now the word along an all but forgotten frontier between the Communist and Western worlds. A South Korean stands guard along the Demilitarized Zone, bordered with barbed wire to block North Korean infiltration. South Korean troops fill in along the 151-mile truce line, replacing 20,000 U.S. soldiers withdrawing by the end of June.

Masonic Anniversary To Be Feted

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Southeast Missouri Masons will observe the 150th anniversary of the chartering of the Grand Lodge of Missouri A.F. and A.M. with a special program April 25.

The observance will feature a nationally - known speaker, two past grand masters of the state lodge, and the current grand master.

Principal speaker will be the prominent chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives' Committee on Internal Security, Rep. Richard H. Ichord. Ichord, himself a Mason, represents Missouri's 8th District in Congress and makes his home in Texas County.

The Sesquicentennial program, to begin at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall at Southeast Missouri State College, is one of nine being held throughout Missouri this spring. The Grand Lodge of Missouri was organized in St. Louis in 1821 by three lodges with a membership of less than 100 men.

Since then, it has grown until it includes 500 lodges throughout the state and more than 110,000 members.

Present grand master of the state lodge is William Chapman of Webster Groves, a St. Louis insurance executive. He will bring greetings from the state organization to fellow Masons attending the program for the southeast Missouri area.

Past grand masters who have a part on the program are Elvis A. Mooney, a Bloomfield attorney, who will introduce guests and lodge representatives, and Dr. H. O. Grauel, professor of English at Southeast Missouri State, who will present historical highlights of the Grand Lodge of Missouri.

Other parts of the program include advancing of the colors by the Cape Girardeau chapters of Job's Daughters and the Order of Demolay, the national anthem and other music by the college symphony orchestra, and several numbers by the Meistersingers, a men's chorus.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Thomas Messer, director of the Baptist Student Union in Cape Girardeau, and the benediction will be said by the Rev. Jack Montgomery, minister of the Methodist Church in Farmington.

Following the program there will be a reception in Memorial Hall on the college campus for the visiting Masons, their wives, and friends.

Topic of the principal speaker of the day will be "Congress and the 1970's As Seen by the Chairman of the House Committee on Internal Security."

Rep. Ichord served eight years in the Missouri General Assembly before being elected to Congress in 1960. In 1959 he became the youngest speaker of the house in the history of the Missouri legislature. He is the youngest committee chairman in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Around 1,000 Due for State KC Convention

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Approximately 1,000 members of the Knights of Columbus are expected to attend the state convention of the Roman Catholic fraternal group Friday through Sunday morning here.

Auxiliary Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas of St. Louis will be principal concelebrant saturday morning of a Mass at the Church of St. John, the Apostle and Evangelist, and the bishop will also deliver the homily.

The St. Louis chapter of the organization with its 37 councils will be host to the convention. A civic reception at noon at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel will see St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes and St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence Roos giving the official welcomes.

A Saturday night banquet and a final business session Sunday morning after mass and breakfast will close the convention.

Hearnes to Meet With Regional Agency Chiefs

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)--Gov. Warren E. Hearnes plans to meet with regional administrators of federal agencies Monday in a first time effort to eliminate some of the red tape that slows joint efforts of the federal government and the state.

"It is not certain what might arise from this initial meeting" Hearnes said. "These regional administrators have been given a new measure of flexibility and authority in handling grant programs and trying to improve federal-state relations."

Vitamin C May Aid in Removing Cholesterol

CHICAGO (AP) — Ascorbic acid, or vitamin C, may prove helpful in removing fatty deposits from blood vessels, a Pennsylvania biochemist stays.

Experiments with rats indicate this is another potential use for this now controversial compound, Dr. Ralph Mumma of the Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture said Wednesday.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a Nobel Prize winning chemist, has claimed that vitamin C is particularly effective in preventing colds when taken in large amounts. A number of scientists have disputed the claim, however.

Mumma told a session at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology that work he and a graduate student, Anthony Verlangieri, have done confirms some findings of Soviet scientists.

The Soviet researchers have used ascorbic acid in rats, rabbits and human beings to flush cholesterol from blood vessels.

Mumma said he would not extend his work to human beings but added, "I hope it has meaning in humans." He said he has increased his own daily intake of ascorbic acid.

He reported success in flushing cholesterol from rats and said he plans more studies with rats and said he plans more studies with rats and other animals.

Atherosclerosis, a major cause of disease and death, occurs when blood vessels become clogged with cholesterol deposits. The flow of blood is impeded and the heart is affected.

More than 300 Young Democrats Expected

Plans are being made to accomodate more than 300 delegates for a two-day Young Democrat state convention to be held at Sikeston on June 18-19.

Scott County Young Democrat members working on the convention's schedule of events are expecting more than 1,000 persons at the Saturday night banquet to be held at the Sikeston Public School Field House.

A nationally known Democratic Party figure is being contacted to serve as feature speaker at the banquet. Most of the other convention events are being set for the Ramada Inn near Sikeston on Interstate Highway 55.

There is to be a Texas style Bar-B-Q, a Casino Royale Party, breakfast gatherings, a farewell dance, Business meetings and elections for Young Democrat state offices will also be conducted during the two-day convention.

This is the first state-wide Young Democrat convention to be held in southeast Missouri during the 35 years of Missouri young Democrat conclaves.

The New Madrid County Young Democrats are joining in the pre-convention efforts by handling arrangements for the Saturday night June 19 banquet.

Large delegations are expected from Young Democrat Clubs in Kansas City, Jefferson City, Marshall and St. Louis, along with a big crowd from the clubs within the southeast Missouri Tenth Congressional District.

Two California Firms Top $4 Million in Farm Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The giant J.G. Boswell Co. farm in California, one of the nation's biggest cotton producers, collected $4.4 million from the government last year in crop subsidies.

That was almost $60,000 more than the farm received from the taxpayers in 1969 according to official records.

But now, if a new farm law is strictly enforced, giant operators like Boswell will be limited to a yearly subsidy of $55, 000 per crop. The limitation is in effect this year.

The big payment to the Boswell firm, perennially the front runner, was at the top of th list again when the Agriculture Department disclosed Thursday the names of 137,000 growers who each received $5,000 or more in payments last year.

Eight other big operators joined Boswell in the million dollar class. They were: Giffen, Inc., Huron, Calif. $4,095,114; South Lake Farms Fresno, Calif, $1,875,454; Salyer Land Co., Gordoran, Calif. $1,547,174; H.M. Tenneco formerly listed as Kern County Land Co., Bakersfield, Calif. $1,317,051; Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., Puunene, Hawaii $1,232,166; Waialua Sugar Co., Ltd., Haialua Hawaii, $1,111, 060; Vista del Llano Parms, Firebaugh, Calif. $1,105,762; and U.S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston, Fla., $1,073,980.

In addition, 14 farms were listed as having received between $500,000 and $1 million last year.

Although made under a variety of program, the payments are keyed to controlling crop production and compensation farmers for taking surplus land out of use.

The new farm law, which sets up programs for cotton, wheat and feed grains through 1973, continues subsidy payments but, at the insistence of Congress, also includes the $55, 000 limitation.

Sugar payments are not covered by the limitation in the new law.

by PAULA PRENTICE

Twenty-five years ago Bradford Angier lived in the woods on "pennies a day." We are sure that when he did so and even now when he wrote a book about it, "How To Live In The Woods On Pennies A Day," he had no idea that today's generation would be highly motivated to get away from it all either in communes or simply for a temporary escape from a confusing life. So today, 25 years later, Angier has a book much more relevant than he could possibly have imagined.

Angier says there is a way out for a while or forever, whichever is your goal, and he tells how to get land for little or nothing in the beautiful northlands of Cananda and Alaska, much of it untouched by human foot. With this piece of land he tells in step-by-step instructions how to build a log cabin with your own hands and how to make the basic furniture you require.

"Even in this atomic age," he says, "there are still thousands of miles that haven't been walked on yet, where, at bargain basement costs you can stretch, breathe, and really live." He provides specific information on where to write for land, how to stake a claim, and just what to look for and what to expect from all the open spaces to the north.

What he suggests may come from an "untrustworthy over-thirty type but his experience of a quarter of a century ago have resulted in some priceless hints on such items as building a smokehouse, curing meat with salt and spices, using bayberries for seasoning, candles, soap, and finding and fixing wild foods.

With his young bride, the author gave up a career in journalism to make a different kind of life for himself. He found land on, appropriately enough, Peace River in Hudson Hope, British Columbia. Did he anticiapte today's frenetic life and that years later other young people would seek peace away from civilization.?

Today's young people are seeking that peace and developing hand skills to find a new way of life. For those who have such dreams, Bradford Angier'sbook makes fascinating reading. HOW TO LIVE IN THE WOODS ON PENNIES A DAY - By Bradford Angier (Stackpole Books $6.95).the end

It's The Law

Clara Flips Over Flannigan

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Clara went to sleep while her husband and several of his cronies started a poker game. Later, Clara suddenly awakened in her pitch black bedroom and felt someone on the bed next to her.

Assuming that it was her husband, voluptuous Clara began to hug and kiss him....and received a very passionate response. When she began to run her willowy fingers through his long and silky hair, Clara suddenly became extremely upset. Her husband, she recalled, was bald.

Jumping out of bed, Clara quickly flicked on the lights. And, as she did so she managed to see Finnigan hotlegging it out of her bedroom. Outraged, Clara had Finnigan arrested on charges of having taken improper liberties with her.

"What's she want from me?" protested Finnigan in court. "She not only consented to it, she started it. I merely went into the bedroom to relax a little from the poker game and she suddenly began to hug and kiss me. Being a passionate guy, I naturally began to hug and kiss her back."

I did it only because I thought it was my husband," was Clara's terse response. "After all, the room was dark and who else, I figured, would sit on my bed except my husband?"

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you convict passionate Finnigan of taking improper liberties with Clara?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that impersonating a woman's husband negates her consent to being hugged and kissed. And, concluded the judge in effect, Finnigan knew or should have known that Clara thought he was her husband when she began to hug and kiss him.

Science In Your Life

WORD SHAPE is not as important to your young son or daughter as the first letter of the word. In a study of children's reading habits, using three and five letter nonsense words, Dr. Virginia Fisher of child and family development has found that first and third graders depend mostly on the first letter of each word for clues to the word's identity.

And, the youngsters depended more on first and final letters than they did on word shape. This discovery from UMC research may bring important changes in the ways that we teach reading to our children.

The recent corn blight epidemic may have been a real blessing. It has called the attention of national leaders in many fields to our extremely vulnerable food production situation.

It is natural for farmers and producers to want to grow the most efficient and marketable varieties. When a promising new strain is discovered, vast acreages may be planted to it and to near relatives. Other varieties are phased out to make way for the newcomers.

Unfortunately, this could make our entire food supply vulnerable to one disease which concentrates on a particular variety. When a number of different strains or varieties are being grown, it is not likely that any one disease can wipe them out.

Dr. James G. Horsfall, director of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station, is leading a study of this vulnerability in our nation's food supply.

It's time to take it easy on sugar. Medical scientists are beginning to worry about the amount of sugar that the average American consumes. Most of us eat as much as 100 pounds of sugar in a year, considering soft drinks, desserts, sweetened fruits, and other foods.

Sugar provides quick energy but no food value. It lacks vitamins, minerals, proteins, and other nutrients. Dr. John Yudkin, University of London, warns that sugar not only contributes to tooth decay and overweight, but gives indication of being at least as much involved in heart disease as is cholesterol.

If you have been having trouble with a favorite house plant that just doesn't grow right or if the north 40 isn't producing the way it did in grandpa's day, you may be ready for plant tissue analysis.

There are two ways that you can do this, says J. R. Brown, researcher in the department of agronomy. One is to use the method described in UMC Guide 9130, "Plant analysis," available from your University Extension Center. This guide describes ways that a quick test can be made to estimate the levels of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium in the fresh plant tissues. The tests do not give real quantitive results, Brown points out.

The other way is a laboratory analysis. When a laboratory determination is made, as many as 16 elements can be assessed for a single plant. Test results will give percentage or parts per million of the elements present. Either way will help you decide what elements are needed.

Your Extension Center staff can help. They can give you information about how to take the samples. And they have access to a list laboratories which will make a complete plant analysis for you.

While the University, itself, does not make these analyses for the public, Brown is continuing his research into the ways that such analyses can be evaluated and applied to your plant and crop needs.

We mentioned in this column last year how the US and USSR had been able to overcome some of their Earthly competition and bitterness in order to cooperate on certain space projects. Notably, this included matching docking units which would allow a space vehicle from either nation to unite with one from the other while in orbit.

Once again these countries have been able to agree on scientific space activities: an exchange of moon samples. This way it won't be necessary for each country to visit every scientifically important moon area. There is still hope that space research can be the starting point for important peaceful relations between the Earth's two largest nations.

Manufacturing Aid Bill Nears Passage

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill described as one of the most significant in this legislative session was advanced by the Missouri Senate today to position for passage.

Advancement came on a one sided voice vote after a lengthy debate.

Sen. A. Clifford Jones, RBrentwood, said the measure allowing public agencies or private corporations to apply for recognition as a foreign trade zone could result in multi-billion dollar processing of raw materials such as coffee, oil, diamonds or other commodities.

Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, sponsor of the measure, said the effect would be to let importers bring in foreign goods on a duty free basis and pay no import taxes until the goods were processed and purchased in this country.

He said it could be of great importance to Kansas City, St. Louis or any other area of the state and might even help depressed areas increase their manufacturing.

Jones noted establishment of a foreign trade zone would be especially important in view of the fact that Kansas City is building an international airport.

He described the proposed Missouri law as the broadest in the country but said the builtin safeguard is that no foreign trade zone could be authorized unless approved by the federal government after a study of foreign trade, geographic and other considerations.

Sen. Edward T. Linehan, DSt. Louis sought to limit application of the bill to governmental bodies but that was defeated, 9-17 after Jones said it would merely mean adding another line of bureaucracy before the importer could take advantage of the law.

In a busy morning the Senate also gave first round approval to a series of bills that would prevent the Internal Revenue Service from taxing charitable trusts, private schools, hospitals and other not-for-profit corporations after July 1.

No Check Payment, Probation Revoked

Probation on a 90-day sentence imposed on Elaine McElfresh March 30 was revoked today for failure to make payment on a bad check.

Magistrate judge Lloyd G. Briggs, in court today following an absense last week because of illness, revoked the probation and turned the woman over to Scott county authorities.

Miss McElfresh, who lives at the Delta Motel, was charged with writing bad checks in mid March.

A plea of innocent was entered by Michael Wayne Apperson and Stanley Ross Abernathy both of 108 Ruth on a charge of destroying private property and stealing.

The two, 17 and 18, were accompanied by their parents in court.

Apperson and Abernathy are charged with last week's breakins of three Sikeston car wash establishments.

Kenneth Dement and Joseph Fuchs were appointed by the court today to represent Ezell Applewhite and Leon Wilder on a charge of stealing from Lindsey's M and H. The case was continued to next Tuesday.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Carl Adams of 243 Thursh on a bad check charge. A $300 bond was forfeited when Adams failed to appear in court.

Black Equipment Company Plans To Move Plant to Sikeston Area

MINER — The Black Equipment Company of Fayette, Ala., expects to move its manufacturing operations to the Sikeston area and will build a plant as soon as a site is available, James H. Black of Fayette said today.

The plant will employ 60 at the ouset, Black said, and increase it to 100.

He said that the company had chosen this area because of the transportation facilities for its products.

The company will have a sales office and distrubtion center on Malone Avenue, near the city limits, Black said.

The sales building will be erected immediately on a five-acre tract. The grounds will be used to display the new Alabama manufactured product.

Products sold at the site will be large post hole diggers, attachable to any tractor, capable of drilling six, nine of 12-inch holes.

A second steel product will be large drag cutters, known as bush hogs, in sizes four, five and six feet in width.

Several trailer loads of finished products have arrived for the distribution center.

Hotel Item Repassed By House

among those sent to the Senate was a $21 million capital improvements appropriation for the coming fiscal year. It included a $2.5 million item to purchase the Governor Hotel here and convert it into state office space.

The idea is to provide more space in the capitol for legislative offices. The same item was refused by the Senate in an emergency bill earlier and Appropriations Chairman E.J. (Lucky) Cantrell, D-Overland, predicted the same fate for the latest measure.

Other bills sent to the Senate would:

Increase contributions and benefits under the state teachers retirement system.

Change the name of the state sanatorium at Mt. Vernon, Mo., to State Chest Hospital.

Provide easement of land at both the Fulton and St. Joseph State Hospitals for utility purposes.

Let fourth class cities levy a tax of 4l on each $100 of assessed valuation without a vote of the residents.

Court Upholds Busing Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — A unanimous Supreme Court held today federal courts may order busing of public school children as a means of desegregating schools.

"Desegregation plans cannot be limited to the walk-in school," said Chief Justice Waren E. Burger in announcing the most important ruling of the term.

At the same time, the court held fixed racial ratios are not required in all the schools of a community.

As Burger said: "The constitutional command to desegregate schools does not mean that every school in every community must always reflect the racial composition of the school system as a whole."

However, the court ruled valid the use of a white-black ratio system for schools in Charlotte, Mecklenburg County, N.C.

"The very limited use of mathematical ratios was within the equitable remedial discretion of the district court," said the chief justice.

In all respects the court was unanimous as it ruled on school cases from Mobile County, Ala., and Clarke County, Ga., as well as the Charlotte case.

Burger delivered all five opinions, taking command as his predecessor, Earl Warren, did when the court in 1954 first declared segregation of public school students for racial reasons was unconstitutional.

Among the court's findings was that the North Carolina antibusing law is unconstitutional because it prevents implementation of desegregation plans. The law forbade assignment of students on account of race or for the purpose of creating racial balance. Additionally, it prohibited "involuntary" busing as well as the use of public funds for such busing.

More than 11,000 copies of the Scott County Community Shelter plan will be distributed countywide Thursday to each household in the county.

The plan, which locates the public shelters in Scott county, also provides other emergency information such as improvising a shelter within the home.

The plan was developed by Walter M. Clark, Jefferson City Community Shelter Planning Officer for Missouri and was completed at a cost of $1,244. A federal grant financed it.

Scott county is the 28th county inMissouri to complete a community shelter plan.

Pinch Felt By Red Cross

NEW MADRID— New Madrid county chapter of American Red Cross Fund drive is far below the goal of $5,000, and the chapter is making a plea for contributions.

A total of $1,242.50 had been received by April 15, according to Mrs. Howard Crisler, county chairman. Mrs. Crisler reports many services to servicemen have been curtailed because of inadequate funds. A wife of a Vietnam veteran, ill in Texas, could not visit him and a mother of an injured serviceman could not visit him in Florida because no funds were available through the county chapter. These are services the Red Cross would normally provide, Mrs. Crisler said, if funds were available.

Most of the chapter funds are used for service to servicemem and their families, Mrs. Crisler said.

Funds received in the annual drive, which will be concluded within two weeks, are: Matthews, $120, Mrs. Dick Odom, chairman; Lilbourn, $191.94, Mrs. Shirley Talylor, chairman; Risco, $116.70, Mrs. Van Gibbs, chairman; Parma, $64.86, Mrs.Robert Lewis, chairman; Kewanee, $78, Mrs. Mildred Brotherton, chairman; highway 61, Knoxall to highway 60, $95, Tom Moore, chairman; $25, personal donation from Roger Rhodes; $50, electrician workers; $50, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, and $25, Brothers Club, all of St. Jude Industrial Park; and $525, New Madrid Community Fund.

Thieves Roll Five Tires

NEW MADRID — Five tires were stolen in a breakin last night at Barnes Standard Station, highway 61 and interstate 55 junction, south of New Madrid.

Police said entry was made by knocking out a glass in south door.

Decline in Cotton Ginned In Bootheel

WASHINGTON–Six of seven counties reporting their number of bales of cotton ginned in 1970-71 up to April this year showing a total of 223,195 bales compared to 326,044 bales in 1969.

No figure for Scott county as available but the previous year was 11,732 bales.

Fifth Breakin Occurs

The fifth break-in in less than a month was reported last night when thieves entered the home of Mauline Retter, 415 Ruth, and left with merchandise valued at $95.

According to police, the thief came in through a rear window. Apparently the thief then stole food and ate on the kitchen table.

The garage of the home was entered and a jewelry box, silverware, dishes and a combination radio-record player were taken.

Police Chief Arthur Bruce said this morning that Sikeston is undergoing a rash of house burglaries and said that citizens could assist police.

Bruce urged that anyone seeing anything that suspicious or unusual to report it to the police.

Burce requested citizens that are planning to be out-of-town to notify their neighbors or police to maintain a watch on their house.

"Even if you're just going to be gone three or four hours tell your neighbor," he said. "It doesn't take a thief long to get into a house and then get out again."

Bruce said that if anyone attempts to sell television sets, guns or coin collection at an unusually low price to report it to the police.

Council Approves Paving of Lanes

NEW MADRID — The city council last night passed a resolution for the paving of 700 feet of Pinnell Lane and 251 feet of Ramsey Lane in the area west of highway 61.

The council ordered that the need for paving be issued immediately.

City Administrative Assistant Russell Ellis advised the council of additional streets needing improvement that should be paved this year. They are Water street from Church street to Lime street, Lime street from Water street to the Cotton Belt railroad, Mott street from the alley to Lime street, and Mill street from Main street to the Cotten Belt railroad.

Ellis told the council that these streets were in bad condition and would require paving soon.

A packaged liquor license was granted to Mary Patterson Cobb to be located at Horace's Bait Shop on Russell street subject to compliance with state regulations.

H. H. Townsend Jr. requested land owned by him fronting on old Kingshighway be included in sewage planning now being made for the servicing of the Billie Goat Hill section on the west side of town. He told the council that he would have 10 building lots and that there were three existing residences requiring sewage service.

The council authorized Russell Ellis to make preliminary estimates for the additional sewage improvements.

The council approved the certification of the recent city election as drafted by County Clerk Jesse Wilkins.

An ordinance limiting liquor by the drink establishments to one per each 1,000 population ased on the census was passed. The ordinance would not affect any of five present businesses.

Mayor Robert Riley read a letter from the Missouri Municipal League requesting the city's nomination for the outstanding civic leader of the year who will receive an award at the league's annual meeting. The council agreed to let the Chamber of Commerce select the man to receive the award.

Discussed was speed limits on highway 61 and route U within the city limits. The council was advised that the highway department will run a survey of the traffic now using these routes and recommend the limits to be posted.

The council authorized the Chase Manhattan Bank to replace $5,000 in municipal revenue bonds which had been reported lost or destroyed. These were bonds issued for construction of the power station in St. Jude Industrail Park.

Construction bills totalling $761,921.31 for power plant construction were approved.

Sheriff Election May 11

CARUTHERSVILLE — Pemiscot county court Monday set May 11, for a special election for sheriff of Pemiscot county to fill the unexpired term of ousted Pemiscot sheriff Clyde Orton.

Filing date for candidates is 4:30 p.m. April 30 with the county clerk.

Hospital Needs More Blood Donors

Dr. Robert Ahlvin, pathologist at Missouri Delta Community hospital, last night made a plea for more blood donors and explained the value of post mortem examinations.

He said that the risk of spreading serum hepatitis was greater from purchased blood than from that which is donated. The presence of syphillis and malaria in blood are detected readily but hepatitis cannot be.

About half the blood used at the Sikeston hospital is purchased, he told the Rotary club at the Rustic Rock Inn.

The doctor explained that the joint commission on hospital accreditation insists on more post mortem examinations of those who die in hospitals.

He said that the examinations provide a method of evaluating health care provided and may give relatives and friends information they need.

Dr. Ahlivn explained that tuberculosis often is difficult to detect in older persons and that it was discovered that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the former President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died from it.

A hospital pathologist exams all tissue removed in operations, he said.

Dr. Ahlvin was introduced by Pat Jones.

Debbie Launius entertained at the piano.

Cape Man Dies in Crash

CAPE GIRARDEAU–A truck-motorcyle mishap claimed the life of Gerald Eugene Thompson, 26, of Cape Girardeau at 6:10 a.m. today near Cape Girardeau, the highway patrol reported.

A 1965 Yamaha motorcylce traveling north, driven by Thompson, was on the wrong side of the road one half mile from Cape Girardeau, the highway patrol said, when it struck on a curve a southbound 1953 international pickup, driven by Fred R. Nebel, 55, of Cape Girardeau.

A ROMAN CIRCUS

The Communist enemies of the United States are sure to welcome with glee the "war crimes hearings" proposed by Representatives Bella Abzug (N.Y.), John Conyers (Mich.), Ronald Dellums (Cal.) and Parren Mitchell (Maryland), who told the press that they have designated April 26-29 to investigate "command responsibilities" for alleged American atrocities in Vietnam.If we are to judge by the wild statements attributed to the four legislators, the "hearings" will be a Roman circus of malicious and irresponsbile accusations against the valiant men of our armed forces, who will not be given an opportunity to defend themselves or to tell the true story of the massive help which they have contributed to the people of Vietnam, above and beyond their military service.

By odd coincidence, on the same day of the Abzug-Conyers-Dellums- Mitchell announcement, a United Press dispatch from Vietnam reported that a Communist Viet Cong defector led Allies to the graves of 18 persons slain by the Reds during the 1968 TET offensive. It was found that the hands of the victims had been tied behind them with wire, and that they had been shot, stabbed, or buried alive. The defector said that there were at lease another 40 or 50 murdered victims in the same area, some ten miles North of Hue. During the "Tet offensive" in 1968, the Communist troops moved into the city of Hue with prepared lists, by name, of 5,700 civilians designated for slaughter. The Viet Cong went door to door, methodically seeking out the victims. They were led away, and then murdered in cold blood. More than 3,000 bodies have since been located, mostly in mass graves around Hue. Another 2,000 are still missing, but they, too, are presumed to have been massacred; a fear substantiated by this latest discovery of bodies 50 miles away.

By no stretch of the imagination can the Calley case be compared with the carefully planned, deliberately premeditated, and methodically conducted atrocities of the Communists. It is sickening to note that there are those, though few in number, who have siezed the Calley case as an opportunity to slander and defame the United States, but who remain silent or apologize for the very real war crimes of the Communists.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE

Inflation has revealed that there is no miracle of efficiency in a government - operated business, such as Tennessee Valley Authority electric power project. The TVA in spite of numerous tax exemptions not enjoyed by private power companies has been forced to impose drastic rate increases to keep up with rising costs.

In the past, public ownership advocated liked to picture TVA as a rescuer of private utilities when it furnished power to them. Under pooling arrangements, this is the normal procedure and TVA benefits from it in the same way as any other utility.

The Oklahoma City (Okla.) Times comments on the present position of TVA: "For those with long memories there's a touch of irony in ... (the local power company's) latest statement ... the big Oklahoma utility notes that power sales for resale continue to be a large revenue producer as surrounding utilities including TVA have been taking economy and emergency, power from (it) regularly. TVA was established back in the '30s to serve as a yardstick for the private utilities ... Now the public power complex, despite its tax breaks, finds it expedient to buy power wholesale from an investor-owned utility which was able, after paying dividends and taxes amounting to nearly 25 cents of every revenue dollar received, to build sufficient generating capacity for its own needs and those of surrounding utilities including TVA."

No, there is no miracle in government operation of any business. It is just a question of getting the tax breaks and having help from private enterprise when it is needed.

SPEED, SPEED AND MORE SPEED --
WHERE WILL IT ALL END?

Overpowering engines, gasoline bills, insurance costs and accident rates all seem to have a cause-and-effect relationship directly connected to motorists' apparent obsession with speed, power and self-destruction.

The 1968 facts are final -- $14.25 billion was lost due to personal injury associated with highway accidents. Fifty-five thousand people were killed and an estimated 4.4 million injured. Property damage amounted to millions of dollars more. Initial 1969 figures won't show much to rejoice about.

Feeling a pinch in the pocketbook, several national insurance companies have announced their intention to charge higher-than- usual premiums for coverage of so-called "performance" or "super" cars. Rates will raise because of the very severe crash and loss rates of such vehicles. According to recent reports issued by the insurance industry, super-powerful cars are producing, on the average, 56 per cent more losses than standard-powered cars.

But while insurance companies take steps to discourage speed and super power, automobiles keep appearing with newer and better engines.

Slowing to a stop at toll gates soon may be a thing of the past if an experiment now underway at the Golden Gate Bridge is successful. According to a recent report, bridge authorities are testing a computerized installation that eventually may allow commuters to pay their toll without slowing down.

A special transmitter in the car is tuned to send a code number to tell a master computer that the car has traveled over the bridge. The master computer then tabulates a monthly bill and sends it to the driver.

Automatic toll-collecting devices such as these perhaps already had a hand in pushing the average open road speed beyond the 59 M.P.H. mark set in 1968.

Though the bell-like "ping-ping" sound of the toll collecting passes into history, it's almost a sure thing in spite of gadgets, bells will still toll for drivers racing an accident to a happening and winding up in a dead heat.

To silence the tolling bells and bring an end to the wasteful depletion of life and economic resources, highway safety standards and regulations must do better than just keep pace with automotive and gadget technology.

You ask what can be done? One possible approach is to use available engineering and technical skills to upgrade our state and local highway systems. Approve of it or not, speed is here to stay and roadways should be upgraded to accommodate our faster traveling. To do this, motorists and highway planners must be willing to spend the time, money and effort needed to prepare our highways for our hardware.

Most local people take for granted many services which are provided for the community by the hometown newspaper. The services are often expensive for the newspaper and free of charge to the groups served.

The activities of civic organization, athletic events, business promotions, farm development and social affairs are good examples. Often these activities would be dismal failures without the free help of the local newspaper. Some of them owe their existence to newspaper publicity.

The editor of a Texas weekly dramatized this situation in a humorous column. He said that he figured it cost his newspaper $900 when a local girl got married. This cost was figured on the basis of type composition and space used on stories on the wedding and parties leading to the wedding.

"This does not include about 40 hours of tedious work on the part of editor telling about how beautiful and charming the honoree (sometimes as ugly as a mud fence) was in chantilly lace, black sheath, etc. ..."

The editor then set up a standing offer: "$15.00 wedding present to any gal that runs off and gets married ..."

However, the distraught editor can find some consolation in the publicity given to non-commercial activities. The importance attached to the publicity by the local community is continuing proof that the newspaper is a closely read and indispensable local advertising medium.

NEW YORK (AP) — How does it feel to wear a $3,000 dress?

"I feel more comfortable in blue jeans,' said Abbe Lane.

"But if the dress gives a show glamor and every woman in the audience would like to wear it, then the money is well spent.'

The red-haired international singing and dancing star is something of an expert on the cost of things right now. She spent $85,000 to ready a new supper club act, a sum for which an off-Broadway drama could be produced.

"It's an investment or a gamble," she said, during a recent unveiling of the act in the Persian Room at the Hotel Plaza. "You never know until the returns are in.

"This is the first time I've prepared this kind of a show. The responsibility was all on my shoulders and I had many a sleepless night. The whole thing would have given me gray hair—but red-haired stars don't get gray hair."

How could a night club act with a star and only two male dancers cost $85,000 to produce? Well, it isn't so hard when you consider what goes into it.

"You start with eight weeks of planning and eight weeks of rehearsal, 'said Abbe.

"Then, there are the director, two writers and three arrangers.

"Then there's the three wardrobe designers and five costume changes for the boys and 10 for me, including a $3,000 dress.

"Then there are the specially constructed props.

"Then there are the lighting director and the musical conductor.

"Then there are three special musicians.

"Then there is the rehearsal pianist and the rehearsal studio.

"Then there are traveling expenses—and all sorts of other things.

"All creative people are very expensive, and I try for the very best."

This is by no means all the new act will cost Miss Lane. She now has a payroll of eight persons—"not including hairdressers and governesses for my children"—that runs between $5,000 and $7,000 weekly.

,,it will probably cost another $40,000 for new wardrobes and to periodically improve the material for the act," said Abbe grimacing.

Why does a star of Miss Lane's stature take such financial risks on her own when she has plenty of engagements to keep her busy and solvent?

"You can't just pick a few songs and stand up and stand up and sing them,' she said. "That won't get you anywhere now. You have to give the people a new show, a real show, for their money."

The Missouri State Highway Patrol made a total of 150,241 arrests in 1970. This was an increase of three per cent over the number of arrests made in 1969. Nearly 95 per cent of these arrests were classified as "traffic', or motor vehicle associated arrests. The remaining arrests were in the criminal misdemeanor and felony category.

There were 142,253 motor vehicle arrests of which 83,726 were for hazardous moving traffic violations. This was a decrease of nearly five per cent from the number of these hazardous moving violation arrests made during the previous year. Among the offenses included in this category are those relating to careless and imprudent driving and driving while intoxicated.

Those arrests made by the Highway Patrol last year for moving violations involving drinking numbered 4,514. The number of these driving while intoxicated arrests classified as motor vehicle misdemeanors totaled 4,425. There were also 89 driving while intoxicated felony arrests made by the Patrol. Under Missouri Statutes the first two convictions for driving while intoxicated are misdemeanors, but the third and subsequent offenses are felonies.

The Patrol's Commercial Motor Vehicle Enforcement Division weighed 1,212,374 commercial vehicles last year. The Division made 26,873 arrests and issued 119,691 written warnings.

In addition to the arrests made by the Highway Patrol, the troopers issued warnings to 427,327 persons for minor infractions of the law. The Patrol also rendered 214,303 services and first aid to motorists n 1970 and investigated over 34,000 traffic accidents.

Time after time, the figure of $5 billion has been quoted as the saving to the public that could be realized on the price of petroleum products if the federal government's oil import restrictions were lifted. The figure has been used as a statement of fact beyond question. When it was used in this manner in a feature story in The New York Times magazine, it brought a quick response from the president of the American Petroleum Institute.

The president of the Institute, Mr. Frank Ikard, in referring to The New York Times piece, says, "....A great deal is made in the article of the alleged $5 billion 'cost' of the oil import program to the public, but nowhere is it indicated that this is a matter very much in dispute. The U.S. Interior Department, for example, estimates that the real cost of the program -- after taking all factors into account — is only about one -fifth of the figure cited ... and points out that such a cost represents very inexpensive insurance for the national military and economic security provided by the program. A study by the Stanford Research Institute found that there is no net cost of the program to consumers, because of offsetting factors ..."

Whether consumers may be saved a cent or two on the price of gasoline, as a consequence of changing U. S. national oil policy, is a wholly irrelevant concern compared to the larger issue of the adequacy of future petroleum supplies upon which the life of the nation depends. Any changes in regulatory or tax policies that rest on the self - serving basis of currying favor with consumers can hardly be defined as a national oil policy.

"But I didn't hiccough then, sir," protested the caddie.

Two Hillbillies who had never been on a train before saved up enough for a trip to the big city. A lad selling bananas came through their car and each bought one.

Just as one bit into his banana the train entered a tunnel. His voice came to his companion in the darkness:

"Not yet," answered Jed. "Why?"

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON--Americans pay $7 billion a year in excess gas, oil and tires because their cars have hidden faults that a simple diagnostic test would turn up. This is the astonishing finding of Sen. Phil Hart's Anti-Trust Subcommittee, based on studies of car inspection and repair figures.

Even the new car buyer, Hart found, can't be sure he won't wind up with a wobbly wheeled, gas gulping, oil burning, chrome-plated lemon.

Hart's statisticians found that bad wheel alignment, dirty plugs, bum carburetor adjustment and the like cost drivers seven-tenths of a cent per mile. Applying this to the trillion miles a year driven by Americans, Hart reached his $7 billion figure.

The Michigan Senator's staff also has discovered that 50 per cent of all new cars and 90 per cent of five-year-and-older cars have safety defects.

To stem the costs and the fatalities, Hart wants to set up nationwide self-supporting diagnostic centers to inspect all newly-bought cars--old and new models alike--and to check repairs made on cars in crashes.

His dramatic statistics have been prepared for release to a meeting later this week of car makers, repairers, consumer men, auto diagnosticians and legislators.

Hart also plans to cite the shameful $8 billion to $10 billion, by his estimate, that Americans spend on shoddy, unneeded and undone car repairs.

--PRESIDENT'S NEWS--

We recently concluded from studying two of President Nixon's private news summaries that he gets a highly condensed view of the news. This has brought a response from White House aide Pat Buchanan, who prepares the President's news digests.

"Serious consideration has been given," wrote Buchanan, "to putting you on the list for the President's Daily News Summary--both in your interest and ours. Seriously, while the quotes taken from the news summary to date have been accurate, they have not been placed in their proper context, in our view...

"(You) noted that the most complex stories had been reduced to single paragraphs, and then went on to quote several. The quotes were accurate. What was in error was that this was not a typical news summary.'...

"The same day... the President also received his weekly magazine report running 27 pages double-space, his daily television report running 13 pages double-space, and his news 'top' which I draft at around seven in the morning, covering the major items in the Eastern press that morning and the Chicago Tribune.

"Finally, this is not an effort to engage in a quarrel, or do a little nitpicking or cavil on the ninth part of a hair. We think that seen in its entirety the President's Daily News Summary--a four- or five-part daily briefing running up to fifty pages--can stand the scrutiny of the most objective reporters."

—WASHINGTON WHIRL—

Julie's Junkets--One advantage of being Julie Nixon Eisenhower is that she can live with her Navy husband, David, at Virginia Beach and keep up her studies in Washington 150 miles away. Julie flies to Catholic University once a week in an Air Force plane to do graduate work in education. Then she zips back a day or two later to be housewife for David, who is attending a Navy navigation school at Dam Neck, Va. A White House spokesman explained that President Nixon, at the urging of the Secret Service and former President Johnson, tries to use Air Force transportation for his family rather than take security risks with ground transportation.

Missing Marker--J. Edgar Hoover, already furious over the burglaziring of an FBI field office, has hushed up another humiliating theft. His birth plaque is missing from its place of honor in Washington's Capitol Hill Methodist Church. The bronze marker, commemorating the birthplace of the revered FBI chief, disappeared several weeks ago from beneath the John Edgar Hoover Memorial Window. Rev. James P. Archibald, the pastor, reported the theft to the Washington police, not the FBI.

Alcoholics Insolvent--The White House, which has done a lot of preaching against alcoholism, has failed to request a penny to prevent alcoholism and to rehabilitate alcoholics.

This would be possible under the Alcohol Abuse Act, which Congress passed unanimously last year. Congress has also authorized $170 million for the program, but President Nixon still hasn't gotten around to asking for the money. Now Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, has appealed to Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., a power on the Senate Appropriations Committee, to fund the act without waiting for the President. In a private letter to Magnuson, Moss wrote angrily: "It is unbelievable that this important program has been shoved aside by this Administration without a single penny to carry out its urgent objectives."

Forest Foray--The South Vietnamese army's setback in Laos has been offset by unpublicized successes inside South Vietnam. The dreaded U Minh Forest with its dark mangrove swamps and maze of waterways, has been infested with Viet Cong for years. There is still talk in Saigon about an entire French paratroop battalion that made a foray into the forest and disappeared forever. A South Vietnamese infantry division, however, has been quietly clearing the Viet Cong out of the forest.

Wiretap Worry--The Justice Department has taken quiet steps to keep its cases from being thrown out of court because of wiretaps. Deputy Attorney General Richard Kliendienst issued an internal memo on March 10 assigning the Internal Security Division to work up the legal justification for telephone taps and electronic bugs. Explains a subsequent internal memo: "The Internal Security Division will review the pertinent materials in connection with the installation and overhearings and will furnish... appropriate legal memoranda and other pleadings necessary to deal with the legal contentions relating thereto."

THE ASWAN FIASCO

On January 15, Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat officially opened the Aswan High Dam. The Soviet journal NEW TIMES, called the dam "one of the greatest engineering accomplishments of the century." But the dam is looking more likea disaster than a great accomplishment.

Journalist Claire Sterling, in a news release put out by the freedomist Cardinal Mindszenty Foundation, pointed out the harm which will result becaue the Nile River no longer floods the valley: "Many of Egypt's 6 million cultivated acres need artificial fertilizer already....without the flood to wash salts away, soil salinity is already reaching ominous levels....." According to agricultural experts, "millions of acres will be reduced to barren rubble in barely a decade" unless costly preventive measures are taken.

The Aswan Dam was also costly in terms of human life. In 1964, 220 Egyptians were killed when the Russian ordered the removal of dynamited rock without proper safety precautions, in their haste to complete the first stage before the spring rains.

In addition, the sediment formerly carried to the Mediterrean by the floods contained an important food source for ocean fish. Without this source, the fish catch in the area has been reduced by one-fifth.

The Soviets boasted of a great engineering achievement; yet much of it was brought about by non-Soviet equipment. When Russian equipment failed, they imported Swedish drills, British trucks and U.S. Caterpillar tractors.

The NEW TIMES declared that the Aswan Dam "shows who are the true friends of the newly emerged national states....." With friends like this, Egypt doesn't need enemies. HLH

'The Kid' Again: Powerful Bloc Inside Teamsters Set to Dump Jimmy Hoffa as He Sends Word He'll Run for President

Washington: -- There are those convicts who see Lewisburg Penitentiary as a gloomy prison. But to the graying Teamsters General President it is the aviary for his phoenix complex. So cocky is James Riddle Hoffa, so safe a haven does he consider the federal jail that he reported in a full day earlier than need be from his emergency furlough in San Francisco.

So certain is he that he will be free in a few months, he has told his old colleague, fifth vice prisident Harold Gibbons, that he will run for president again at the Teamsters Brotherhood July 5 Convention in Miami.

The lanky Gibbons listened, nodded to the bantam he used to call "the champ" or "the kid" and then reported back to the others in the Brotherhood's high command.

You better believe it, Jimmy Hoffa and his inner guard have been so cocky that they have spread word that the $100,000-a-year general president personally will accept the convention,s nomination on the stage of the Miami Auditorium.

For some time now they have been warning the anti-Hoffa phalanx that they will file an action with Federal Judge R. B. Austin in Chicago seeking a decision which would make Hoffa's five year mail fraud sentence concurrent with his current eight year sentence. Should this happen, "Jimmy" would be eligible for immediate parole. And they have asked Federal Judge Wilson to reopen the old Chattanooga case which ended in an eight year term. If Judge Wilson agrees, Hoffa could be out on bond immediately.

And the word is that presidential clemency is imminent. However, Jim Hoffa has not signed such a petition for forwarding to the U. S Pardon Attorney, Lawrenc Traylor, in the Justice Dept.

The President does have the power to shorten or commute the tough little Teamster president's sentence -- under the Constitution's Article 2, Section 2. But word from the White House is there is no such inclination.

But none of this has discouraged "Jimmy H." He pranced and strutted about his 19th floor "garden room" in San Francisco's Hilton Hotel. He was in the hill town for some two days before the press got to him. Since there were no Justice Dept. restrictions on his activities he telephoned, conferred, cajoled, cussed and was his old self.

It was like old times with Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien at his side. The younger man is considered Jimmy's adopted son -- always with him when Hoffa is free. And Jimmy was his old self. Get that, do this, call so and so, don't ask questions. You know better than to ask. Do as you're told. Jimmy is as Jimmy does. But does he still have power?

This was to be settled the week of April 19 at the International Executive Board session in the Hotel Diplomat, Hollywood, Fla. Now the eyeball-to- eyeball confrontation has been postponed to May 10.

Then the question will be -- will the real Frank "Fitz" Fitzsimmons step forward? Teamster Acting President Fitz has done some psychological tailoring on himself. He came custom built -- as Jimmy's man. But the chair of the Teamster presidency is as powerful as it is big. And the office's picture window looks out on the power, if not the glory, of the U. S. -- Capitol Hill.

And "Fitz" has grown into the office, most of the Teamsters Executive Board say. He has mixed with the giants of labor and the industry's best golfers. And with the nation's chief executive. And even with Mr. Labor -- AFL-CIO President George Meany. A powerful combination indeed.

Fitz, portly, bespectacled and surrounded by a ghost writer -- or two or three -- has been spokesman for the free world's biggest union -- 2.1 million members. It is not inconsequential in the political, economic and industrail systems which make America viable. He ikes what he has. Who wouldn't.

He has said he would stand for president of the Brotherhood.He would be silly if he believed that this wasn't observable. Recent issues of the Teamsters' magazine have hardly been laden with appeals for Jimmy's freedom.

On the other hand, the Communist line Daily World has called for an Angela Davis-type world alarum and network of demonstrations calling for Hoffa's release. And Harry Bridges' left-wing West Coast longshoremen and Executive Board have also demanded Hoffa's freedom -- bold type, oo.

So Jimmy Hoffa has sent word he wants Fitz out. But the earth isn't trembling. The Executive Board isn't quivering. The vice presidents aren't shaking.

There is, in fact, growing opposition to James Riddle Hoffa.

Jimmy must wince at the anti-Hoffa literature. It hits him as hard as he has hit others. Little Atlas can't shrug this off. The anti-Hoffa coalition must believe itself powerful. Otherwise it would not chance delving into Jimmy's private and personal life as they are.

It was all to be settled this week. But the Executive Board meeting was postponed three weeks so the trauma of Jimmy's freedom week and the sympathy for his ailing wife would not affect the battle.

And a battle it will be. Jimmy is not without his allies in the political world and one far more submerged. But neither is the opposition lacking in power. Mr. Fitzsimmons has opened the gates to the White House, to the House of Labor on 16th St. here and to the arena of respectability. The Teamster leadership has had enough of turbulence. They don't want to run no more -- and they know much of their future battle fatigue depends on who runs for president in July.

Watch for the fireworks.

Passage of Cancer Bill Urgent

Dear Readers: If you are looking for a laugh today, you'd better skip Ann Landers. If you want to be part of an effort that might save millions of lives -- maybe your own -- please stay with me.

Who among us has not lost a love one to cancer? Is there a single person in my reading audience so incredibly lucky that his life has not been changed in some way by this dread disease? More Americans died of cancer in 1969 than were killed in the four years of World War II. Of the 200 million Americans alive today, 50 million will develop cancer. Approximately 34 million will die of it. Cancer claims the lives of more children under 15 years of age than any other illness.

How many of use have asked the question, "If this great country of ours can put a man on the moon why can't we find a cure for cancer?" One reason is that we have never launched a national campaign, a united effort, against this killer disease. Another reason is money. The funds designated for medical research in America is grossly inadequate. Government grants for medical research have virtually dried up. The lion's share of the tax dollar is going to defense.

The following statistics shook me. They tell an interesting (and shameful) story about the priorities in this country. In 1969, for every man, woman and child in the United States our government spent:

$125 on the war in Vietnam
$19 on the space program
$19 on foreign aid
89 cents on cancer research

Soon a bill will come before the United States Senate which calls for the establishment of a National Cancer Authority. This bill, S-34 will be sponsored by Senators Edward Kennedy and Jacob Javits. The proposed National Cancer Authority would be an agency similar to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) which put men on the moon. This Conquest of Cancer bill demands that the highest priority be given to devise better methods of prevention, diagnoisis and cure of cancer at the earliest possible date.

Today you have the opportunity to be a part of the mightiest offensive against a single disease in the history of our country. If enough citizens let their senators know they want Bill S-34 passed, it will pass.

I urge each and every person who reads this column to write to his two senators at once -- or better yet, send telegrams. If you don't know the names of your two senators, call your newspaper and ask the switchboard operator. Address your letter or telegram to: Senator ——————, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20510.

Your message need consist of only three words. "Vote for S-34." And sign your name, please.

No one can do everything, but each of us can do something. It is entirely possible that this one small act could reshape the lives of millions. Get moving. My telegrams to Senators Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson went out last night.

Thanks -- and God bless.

Crafts Are Alive and Well

By AP Newsfeatures

It may be the machine age, and the dawning of total technology, but some dropouts from the computer society are resisting in an intensely creative way.

These people are making things with their own hands: one of a kind desks, salad bowls, wall hangings, necklaces, chests of drawers, urns, boxes, drinking glasses, chairs and vases. Some are functional, others are for esthetics, but each is a personal statement.

In celebration of this event is Objects USA, a collection of 20th century crafts, assembled by Lee Nordness, whose gallery has hosted many craft exhibits, and Paul Smith of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts. The exhibit is sponsored by Johnson Wax Co., and now there is a book, "Objects USA," which shows many of the objects and gives biographies of their creators. The exhibit opened at the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, D.C. and will travel to museums and colleges across the country.

All the media — enamel, wood, fiber, glass, ceramics, plastic, mosaic and metal — are represented. And there is something for everyone. There's humor, wit, sophistication, whimsy; there are examples of traditional, funk, camp, avant garde objects, all of which show a high quality of skill.

TORONTO (AP) Future generations may be unhappy because their mothers resented having to interrupt their careers to have babies, social anthropologist Lionel Tiger warned.

Tiger suggested that society reorganize its work practices so that women can have their babies and careers at the same time.

Tips for Cleaning Area Rugs

Bath mats and area rugs up to 4' x 6' can be cleaned in your washing machine. The secret to restoring new beauty to small rugs is to wash them in neutral (mild) detergent and tumble dry. If tumbling action is not available, hang or spread rugs in the shade until they are dry, then brush them lightly with a stiff brush. Forced air from a vacuum or fan is helpful.

Because dyes and colors in floorcoverings, as in all types of furnishings materials, have a tendency to bleed, classify colors before placing rugs in the washing machine. Whites and very light colors may be washed together, while dark colors should be washed separately.

Men's Wear Changing

While the furore kicked up over midi lengths in women's wear has dominated most of the recent fashion headlines, a radical revolution taking place in men's wear has gone almost unnoticed.

Virtually every garment in the male wardrobe has undergone a change in design, fabric, color, style, and even feel. Fashion has shifted gears to keep pace with today's earth-orbiting male.

The spring outlook in men's wear is for clothes cut along clean, classic lines but with free-wheeling mobility and super-graphic designs. Most popular suits and jackets are the two-button shaped models with wide notched lapels.

In keeping with the current trend to environmental living and the return to the natural elements, cotton—a natural winner—is clocking in with a new perspective to earn Grand Prix status on fashion's fast track.

They're graphically turned on by sophisticated printing techniques that produce large scale linear or angular designs, vari-shaped geometrics, computer dots, diamond checks, stripes, paisleys, and herringbone patterns.

Whether woven or knit, cotton's incomparable comfort makes it a natural for tailored business or evening suits, stylish blazer jackets, shorts, shirts, and slacks for put-together sports coordinates.

COCO CHANEL

THE FASHION DESIGNER

I was pleased to see the stage show about this energetic woman who made herself famous in the field of fashion. The role of Coco Chanel was portrayed by Katherine Hepburn. It was a thrill to me to see her in person and she was as dynamic on stage as she has been on the screen. As always Katherine Hepburn appeared as a woman who is independent, determined, dedicated to her cause — who seems unyielding, yet sooner or later shows her soft heart. Coco Chanel was that kind of woman, which is probably why she survived in the field of fashion designing. Coco never yielded to the so-called fads, as she believed in casual elegance and her creations proved that this is lasting. The "chanel" jacket is still a part of our fashion look. She also believed a woman should have a certain fragrance about her and so she produced "Chanel No. 5". The stage play brought out incidents in her life that started fashion trends. Once, when she was surrounded by people, she awkwardly fell and was exposed. She said this would not have been embarassing if she had been dressed as a man, so she created "women's slacks". Another time her female rival received from Coco's boyfriend a large but real diamond ring. To out do her rival, Coco appeared at a party with even larger jewelry, only it was fake — hence, costume jewelry. Coco's mourning was so strong when she lost a loved one that her mood carried through into her designing — she created a fashion that has lasted for years — "the basic black dress". On stage the models actually "flowed" across the room, moving so gracefully that it was beautiful to behold. At different intervals they would stand so still they appeared as mannequins in store windows.

Speaking of store windows, have you seen the lingerie in our middle window? It is so bright and colorful that we have even had comments that they thought it was swimwear. However, we do have swimwear that would be just a little more concealing. Take note of this lingerie, as it makes for good gift giving for graduation.

This week has been designated "Earth Week". Do your part in keeping the earth as clean and pure as you possibly can.

Giants Extend Lead, Post 9th Straight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manager Charlie Fox of the San Francisco Giants likes the comparison between his surging 1971 club and Cincinnati's Big Red Machine of 1970.

"I'd like to get out in front, like Cincinnati did last year, and stay there. I don't care if we don't have a close race," Fox quipped after the Giants extended their winning string to nine games with a 4-2 victory over St. Louis Monday.

The triumph boosted the Giants' record to 12-2 and their National League West lead to 3½ games over idle Atlanta.

In waltzing to the division flag by 14½ games last season, the Reds jumped off to a 10-4 start after 14 games. And the Giants have done much of their recent damage with ailing Willie McCovey and Ken Henderson out of the lineup.

Fox sends Juan Marichal, 3-0, against the Cards Reggie Cleveland, 0-2, tonight.

When asked for the reason behind San Francisco's swift get away, Fox declared, "Our defense has been great, the bullpen has picked us up when we have needed it, and the hitting has been great too."

All three factors were in evidence Monday. The Giants played errorless ball and registered two double plays, running their total to 22 in 14 games.

Dick Dietz collected a pair of run-scoring singles and Bobby Bonds blasted his fifth home run, giving him 18 runs scored, a league high mark.

But the bullpen was the key. Left-hander Ron Bryant replaced Frank Reberger with two on and no outs in the first and struck out eight Cardinals while going nine innings.

Reberger was taken out after suffering a shoulder strain. Bryant's one-run relief lowered the bullpen's ERA to 1.42, five earned runs in 31 2-3 innings.

Elsewhere on a slim major league schedule, Los Angeles defeated San Diego 3-2, Minnesota outlasted Kansas City 9-8 and Cleveland nipped Boston 5-4 in 13 innings.

the Padres took a 2-0 lead off Don Sutton in the first inning on four singles and a walk, but the Dodgers bounced back with a run in the third on doubles by Willie Davis and Wes Parker. They won it in the eighth when Davis and Parker singled and, after a sacrifice and an intentional walk, Billy Grabarkewitz lashed a two-run double.

Harmon Killebrew drove in six runs as Minnesota built a 9-0 lead and then survived a Kansas City counter-attack, including Bob Oliver's grand slam homer.

Killebrew delivered a two-run single in the first, a run-scoring grounder in the second and his second homer of the season, a three-run shot, in the third. The Royals nicked Jim Kaat for a run in the fourth and chased him with a seven-run outburst in the fifth.

Roy Foster's two-run homer in the 13th inning lifted Cleveland past Boston in the Red Sox' annual Patriots Day game. The homer, off Bill Lee, followed a lead off walk to Graig Nettles. The Sox scored a run in their half of the inning before Ray Lamb picked up the final out with two runners aboard.

Former Red Sox slugger Ken Harrelson put the Indians in front with a three-run homer in the fourth but Boston tied it with two in the sixth and an unearned tally in the eighth.

That is my highest series in league play this year and I'm proud of it. They all bowl for Barketts and they had high team game and series with scores of 1039 - 2927. 500 series: Mary Meyer (my team member) 504 and Norma Baker 531, Jean Lee 539, and Connie Garner 515. This was Connies' first 500 and she was very happy with it. I would have been happier if she hadn't been bowling against us.

Splits: Mildred Cockrell 2-5-7, & 3-10, Anita Ziegler 4-5 Wanda Baugher 2-7, Ruby Tucker 6-7-10 and Jane Manley 5-7. That's all for now. See you all next week!

Bullets Claim Eastern Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee?" said Gene Shue, a weary grin spreading across his face. "I'm not even thinking about the Bucks. I'm too happy!"

The often volatile coach looked as exhausted and elated as his Baltimore Bullets Monday night after they finally gained two seasons worth of revenge against the New York Knicks.

The Bullets, withstanding a four-quarter rally on the court—and game-long pandemonium by the 19,500 fans surrounding it in Madison Square Garden—beat the Knicks 93-91 for the National Basketball Association's Eastern Conference crown.

That sends the Bullets into the best-of-seven championships against the Bucks, who cruised to the Western title by conquering the San Francisco Warriors and Los Angeles Lakers in five games apiece.

The confrontation begins Wednesday night in Milwaukee, nationally televised by ABC—as all the championship games will be—starting at 9 p.m., EST.

In Monday night's only other playoff action, Ray and Charlie Scott tossed in 30 points apiece as the Virginia Squires defeated Kentucky 150-137 to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven American Basketball Association Eastern Division finals. Utah, leading the Western series 2-1, hosts Indiana tonight.

Baltimore was shooting not only for the chance to face Milwaukee—the winningest team in the NBA this season—but for a chance to end frustration that began with the 1968-69 season.

They won the regular-season Eastern title that time only to be knocked out by the thirdplace Knicks in four straight games in the first round of playoffs.

Then, last year, after losing five of six regular-season games to the Knicks, Baltimore again faced them in the first round—and again the Bullets lost, this time in seven games.

This season the Knicks again dominated, beating the Bullets in four of six games, then taking the first two playoff games in New York.

Baltimore finally woke up at home however, and smothered the Knicks twice to even the series. Each team then won its next home game to set up the finale.

The Knicks had held leads of 21-19 after one period and 47-43 after two. But a foul shot and two field goals put the Bullets in front in the opening minutes of the third quarter and they pulled away to a seven-point lead—the biggest by either team—in its closing seconds.

New York slowly battled back and finally went in front 88-87 with 2:44 to go on a lay-in by Dick Barnett, New York's top scorer with 26 points.

But Monroe, who topped Baltimore with 26, got the Bullets back on top with a 15-foot jimper just 10 seconds later and they stayed there the rest of the way.

Fred Carter's 19-footter with about a minute to play was the decided, giving them a 93-89 lead. Walt Frazier got the Knicks back within a basket moments later and the flashy guard, using center Willis Reed as a shield, was supposed to shoot for the equalizer when they got the ball with 11 seconds to play.

But the Baltimore defense stiffened and Frazier was forced to pass to Bill Bradley, whose 15-footer was tipped by Wes Unseld and fell short.

"I'm realizing it slowly, but it'll be a few days before I really feel it," Frazier said. "But the hard part comes when I have to watch the championship series on television."

And Reed, who hit 24 despite being hobbled by bad knees and a painful right shoulder, added: "Everything being equal, they outplayed us in the series. If they play as well as they did against us, they could give Milwaukee a real battle."

Colonel Taylor put these words on the label in 1909. We still live up to them. We still use the same costly small grains, still tend our mash as lovingly.

People galore tried to copy Old Taylor. So Col. Taylor made every bottle a signed original. And that took care of that!

Old Taylor is the only Bourbon rich enough to be born in a castle. (Col. Taylor built the castle in 1887, near the delicious limestone spring he discovered.)

TRJC Advances To Semifinals

HILLSBORO — Three Rivers Junior College advanced to the semifinals of the region XVI baseball tournament Monday afternoon, defeating Florissant Valley, 10-5.

Three Rivers took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning and scored three more in the second. Florissant Valleyscored two in the second but were unable to hold the Raiders at bay. They plated twomore in the top of the third to take a 6-2. lead. They added one in the fourth and three more in the fifth to ice the win.

The Raiders hold a 12-2 record for the season and play Meramec Tuesday afternoon.

FOREST PARK FALL 8-6 to TRJC

The Highlanders of Forest Park fell beneath the bats of the TRJC Raiders, 8 to 6, Sunday. Former Sikestonian Les Schatzley went 3 for 4 in the batting department and was outshone on the day's effort by the three-run homer of Kenny Dunn in the seventh inning.

Landis handled all the pitching chores for Forest Park. He was tagged for 11 hits and 8 runs by the striving Raider of Poplar Bluff. Yet, in the sixth inning Landis connected for a solo homer but the Highlanders rally ended there as it proved to be the only run produced in that inning.

Recording the win for TRJC was Steve Coulson, who has a record of 3-0. He struck out six, walked five and hit one in going the distance for the Raiders 11th victory of the season and the chance ot advance to the quarterfinal game of the winners' bracket of the double leimiantion tourney.

Jumping out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning it looked as if the Raiders were to have an easy victory but the Highlanders pushed across two runs in the second and the score stook 3-2.

Neither team scored in the third inning and TRJC managed to push across only one run in the fourth. Then Coulson held the Highlanders in their frame and the score was 4-2 in favor of Three Rivers going into the fifth inning. In the Bottom of the fifth Forest Park tied the game by pushing across two tallies, 4-4 and so it went the next inning with each squad adding one run to their total with one inning left. In the seventh inning Poplar Bluff prounded Landis for three runs and its ace Steve Coulson was able to check the Highlanders to one run. TRJC recorded its 11th victory of the season against two losses.

Cowens, Petrie Share NBA Rookie Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Rugged Dave Cowens of the Boston Celtics and sharp-shooting Geoff Petrie of the Portland Trail Blazers shared Rookie of the Year honors today, the first such deadlock in the history of the National Basketball Association.

Cowens, a 6-foot-9 center who scored 17 points and grabbed 15 rebounds a game, and Petrie, a 6-4 guard with a 24.8 point a game average, each drew 36 votes inthe balloting by sportswriters and sportscasters in the 17 league cities.

Third in the voting was the pre-season favorite, Pete Maravich of Atlanta, who drew 21 votes, while Calvin Murphy of San Diego had four and Bob Lanier of Detroit one.

Last year's winner was Lew alcindor.

Boston, choosing fourth in the 1970 college draft, selected Cowens of Florida State on the first round. While the Celtics later hope to move the red-haired Cowens to forward, he did a good job at center and gave the Celtics the rebounding they badly needed. With him, they turned a 34-48 record in 1969-70 into a 44-38 mark last season.

Petrie of Princeton, Portland's top choice on the first round as the No. 8 pick, helped the expansion club win 29 games as he gunned in baskets from all over the floor.

Tom Heinsohn in 1966-67 was the only other Boston player ever to win the honor.

Braves Edge Oran

By BILL HARRISON

ORAN — The Scott Central Braves sqeaked home a run in the seventh inning to take a 2-1 Scott -Mississippi conference baseball win from the Oran Eagles Monday afternoon.

Rick Irwin and Charles Watson hooked up in a pitching duel. Irwin allowed three hits for Oran and Watson gave up two for the Braves.

Scott Central took a 1-0 lead in the top of the second inning and held it until the fourth when the Braves pushed across their only run to know the score 1-1.

Neither team couldplate another run until the seventh when with Scott Central up, Popst reached first base and was there when Alcorn struck out. The catcher dropped the ball allowing Pobst to go to second on an error.

Pobst then attempted to steal third and the catcher committed his second error of the inning by throwing wildly into left field allowing Pobst to score the winning run. Oran was unable to score in the final half of the inning.

Rick Irwin was the losing pitcher. He now stands 1-1 for the season. Oran is 3-2 overall and in second place at 2-2 in the conference.

The Eagles' next game will be at Kelly Tuesday afternoon. Delta will visit Scott Central Friday for a conference bout.

Ali Makes Final Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief lawyer for Muhammad Ali has told the Supreme Court the government's case against the former heavyweight champ is wrapped in prejudice.

According to Chauncey Eskridge, Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold's arguments against the fighter's appeal of a draft evasion conviction was filled with bias against both Ali and his black Muslim religion.

Griswold denied the claim as both sides stated their arguments Monday before the Supreme Court.

Eskridge told the high court Ali was opposed to fighting all but holy wars—those declared by Allah.

Ali was not present for the 60-minute session before eight justices. The ninth justice, Thurgood Marshall, disqualified himself apparently because he was U.S. solicitor general when Ali's case was brought before the government.

Eskridge said the key issue was whether the Justice Department misled the Kentucky Selective Service Board of Appeals in a letter saying Ali was not sincere in his Muslim beliefs.

Griswold maintained Ali's objections to serving were based on "political and philosophical" views that don't fall under conscientious objector status.

Ali was heavyweight champion when he was drafted. Refusing induction at a Houston draft center in April 1967, he was convicted and sentenced to five years in jail.

He has been free on $5,000 bond as the case moved through lengthy appeals.

Monday's court activities were the last available to Ali.

ROME (AP) — A Rome newspaper lectured Pope Paul VI today for receiving in audience rock music groups that included two girls wearing hot pants. It said that at this rate he'd be greeting strippers at the Vatican one day.

But another paper praised the Pope and said he was just "trying to understand the modern world."

The right-wing daily Il Tempo published the rare public criticism of the Pope in a frontpage editorial commenting on Friday's audience. The newspaper, which has frequently attacked liberal trends in the church, often reflects the opinions of a small circle of conservatives within the Vatican.

Il Tempo recalled that the Pope once held an audience for Italian actresses—including Claudia Cardinale, who wore miniskirts that displayed "their prosperous and most appetizing thighs."

It expressed shock that on Friday he received girls wearing hot pants that showed legs "up to the groin."

English, French and Italian rock groups were received by the Pope in the Vatican's austere Clementine Hall. The Pope told them he couldn't appreciate their music but praised them for trying to promote peace.

The Vatican's spokesman, Federico Alessandrini, suggested Il Tempo's attack on the Pope was in bad taste. But he told newsmen that this was his personal view and that the Vatican had no official comment.

$1.5-Billion Transit System Recommended for St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A tomorrowland-type rapid transit system costing at least $1.5 billion has been recommended for metropolitan St. Louis by the Bi-State Development Agency.

The report said about twothirds of the system's cost could be provided by the federal government, leaving about $500 million to be raised locally.

An 86-mile rail system would be complemented by improved bus networks, subways and aerial tranportation, the report said.

It said the system could be in partial operation within eight years.

The report was the last of a series of studies prepared for the agency by two planning firms.

Copies were sent Friday to area transportation firms, government and civic leaders for review.

The report said by 1990 the system could be serving about 600,000 passengers daily on both sides of the Mississippi River.

No specific recommendations on financing were made. However, the report suggested some type of area-wide referendum probably would be needed to get the system under way.

Proposals called for about 60 stations in the transit system and a possible 14-mile link from downtown St. Louis to Kirkwood, in St. Louis County.

The St. Louis-Kirkwood run would operate on existing railroad track, the report said.

Experts Say Drought Not Serious as Yet

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) —Little rainfall since early March is beginning to threaten the crop outlook in Missouri, but experts say the lack of moisture is not yet as serious as shrinking farm ponds and creeks may make it appear.

"With few local exceptions," says a spokesman for the National Weather Service, "precipitation through most of the winter was below normal or close to normal," but the shortage is not serious as far as subsoil moisture is concerned.

Reason for the relative security is that during September-October most of the state had much more rain than usual for that time of year, ranging up to almost 6 inches in the west Ozarks region, 5 in the east Ozarks, and just under 5 in the Bootheel.

"We're not hurting yet, but if the dry period continues a week or two more we will continue to lose some of that' said Dr. James McQuigg of the atmospheric science department at the University of Missouri-Columbia Friday.

As McQuigg was talking the weather service was predicting most of the state would get some moisture in the period Friday night through Sunday.

McQuigg pointed out there is another aspect to the situation in that at this time of year with longer periods of daylight and sun, and evaporative winds the loss of moisture from topsoil is much more rapid than during the winter or on those days when there is a lot of cloud cover. The beginning of the growth and vegetative period, he said, also draws moisture from the soil.

Agriculturally speaking, McQuigg said, relatively dry conditions have been a benefit in that a lot of field work has been done that could not have been completed if there had been a lot of snowfall during the winter or excess rainfall during early spring.

"After a very, very wet fall, farmers needed some dry periods to get into the fields," McQuigg said and "They're not hurting yet considering everything."

McQuigg said the relatively dry period this spring has also helped in fighting southern corn leaf blight. One thing recommended was that farmers get fields cleaned up as quickly as possible and the dryness encouraged that.

The latest crop weather report of the Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service noted that after the first 10 days of April pastures remained in fair condition, but they needed moisture for added growth.

As far as ground preparation was concerned the estimate was that 70 per cent of the state's plowing was completed before the first two weeks of April was over, about 4 per cent more than is normally accomplished by that time.

With all of the experts' optimism, however, the average observer will feel a lot more confident if the rains predicted for this weekend are enough to bring water levels back up on the ponds and lakes of the state.

Money Taken At Bloomfield

Stoddard County Sheriff Edsel Edwards, whose office is investigating, said entry apparently was gained through an adjoining insurance agency office.

Glass was removed from the back door of the Stoddard County Insurance Co., he said. Mrs. Grace Hester, owner of the restaurant, told authorities the intruders probably entered her business by climbing over the partition separating the two establishments.

Spray Believed Safe, Drainage Chief Explains

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Earl Schultz, chief engineer for the Little River Drainage District headquartered here, said the district had no intention of harming fish and animals by spraying area drainage ditches last month.

A. J. Seier, Cape Girardeau county prosecuting attorney, has filed charges against the district charging it willfully and unlawfully sprayed a herbicide-fuel oil mixture which killed an estimated 65,000 fish.

"When we purchased that stuff (the herbicide) we believed it was safe for everything," Schultz said. The business from which the material was purchased indicated it was safe for spraying along ditches, he added.

Fish kills were estimated at 25,000 in Cape Girardeau and Stoddard Counties and 40,000 in New Madrid County. Charges have been filed only in Cape Girardeau County. The district, which drained most of the swampland of southeast Missouri many years ago, is supported by property taxes. It maintains the network of drainage ditches.

Remember Main Street?

Before the tornado.

Watch for the funnel cloud.

Curl up and shield your head and eyes.

If you live in a mobile home, leave it for solid shelter or low ground.

The warning means you are out of time.

Save your life.

Save the lives of those who cannot save themselves.

Forget Main Street.

You can start rebuilding it, a minute later.

Economic Affairs Dept. Would Lump Special-Interest Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Nixon's proposed Department of Economic Affairs would swallow up a maze of special-interest agencies, old inhabitants of the federal bureaucratic jungle.

Parts of the departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Labor and Transportation would be swept into a single unit, along with a group of smaller, singlepurpose agencies.

The attempt to bring these agencies together may explain some of the opposition to Nixon's sweeping plan to reorganize the federal government.

For one thing, Congress is organized that way. Many committee chairmen are said to fear they would lose their niche if their special agency were eliminated or combined with another department.

For another thing, the agencies have developed their own constituencies—almost a customer-salesman relationship.

A small businessman looking for a loan to help out his faltering business naturally comes to the Small Business Administration, a big businessman to the Department of Commerce. A union leader would go to the Labor Department, and a farmer to Agriculture.

The proglem, Nixon administration officials say, is that these departments have many overlapping programs and sometimes work at cross-purposes.

For example, they say, the Commerce Department recently loaned a group of Eskimos $650,000 to outfit a barge that could freeze and store salmon. At the same time, the Small Business Administration financed a land-based storagefreezer plant in direct competition with the barge. The SBA loan went into liquidation.

Along with pulling some of the programs together, the department's creation would make it more effective in establishing economic policy, officials say.

Because Labor and Commerce are so fragmented, the job of making and carrying out economic policy has largely gone to the White House or the Treasury. An Economic Affairs Department would be a more powerful spokesman for the agencies it represents.

From the standpoint of employes, the Economic Affairs Department would be the biggest Nixon proposes, with 161,200 workers, including 39,000 in the Coast Guard.

Almost all the present Commerce Department would be included in the new agency. From the Labor Department would come the Bureau of International Labor Affairs, Labor-Management Services Administration, Workplace Standard Administration, Bureau of Labor Statistics and Occupational Health and Safety.

Agriculture would contribute services relating to farm productivity, economy stabilization and marketing, such as the Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Stabilizatio n and Conservation Service, crop insurance, economic research, statistics, and the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Federal Highway Administration, Federal Aviation Administration, Highway Safety Administration, Coast Guard and Federal Railroad Administration would be key Transportation agencies brought into the department.

The Samll Business Administration, now a separate agency, would be swallowed up as would the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The National Institute for Occupational Health and Safety would be taken from Health, Education and Welfare.

The new department would be organized along functional lines, much the same as in the old agencies.

While the Economie Affairs Department would be biggest in terms of size, its budget would be only second largest—$10.8 billion compared with the proposed Human Resources Department budget of $23.6 billion.

Officials say one problem likely to develop is naming a person to head the Economic Affairs agency.

Should it be someone associated with farming, as is now the case with Agriculture, or business, as is the case with Commerce?

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans said none of the present Cabinet members whose jobs would be eliminated by the plan should be considered to head the new department.

That would eliminate the impression one department is being taken over by the other, he said.

Costumes To Be Worn In New Madrid

NEW MADRID— The New Madrid Jaycees have announced that starting Monday, woman and men who are wearing costumes of the early 1800s in observance of the Missouri Sesquicentennial will be judged and prizes awarded each week.

Citizens may wear period costumes to call attention to a series of events to be presented by the Jaycees May 15 and 16, in commemoration of the 150th birthday of the state.

It is not necessary that citizens register as they will be judged by some local persons who are usually alert to those people appearing on New Madrid's Main Street.

Phone Rates Up in Cape

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Rate increases ranging from 10 cents to $1.05 for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. customers in the Cape Girardeau-McClure, Ill., area will become effective June 15.

Kenneth Hartung, Southwestern Bell manager said today the rate increases resulted from an "unprecedented growth in the number of telephones in the Cape Girardeau calling area."

The increases become automatic under Missouri Public Service Commission rulings because the numer of telephones in the affected area has passed 30,000.

All customers involved in the rate adjustment will be notified by letter, Hartung said.

Whitworth Speaks to Students

COLUMBIA--Lennie O. Whitworth, Jr., of Buchmueller, Whitworth and Foust, Inc., Sikeston, Mo., and Clarence Lee Sherrill of Cape Redi-Mix, Cape Girardeau, spoke at the student chapter meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the University of Missouri Tuesday.

Whitworth and Sherrill described the Tower High Rise dormitories project on the campus of Southeast Missouri State College. Major problems encountered included the design of a building to stand on a major earth fault, the result of the New Madrid earthquake on December 16, 1811, and meeting a seven-month construction deadline. These campus structures were of poured concrete framework, exposed-aggregate precast slabs, and white Portland cement concrete wall panels.

I am a representative of the Alpha Psi Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma, a national service sorority. Our chapter, which is located at the campus of Southeast Missouri State College, would like to ask for some help from the citizens of Sikeston.

At the present time we are conducting a drive for Betty Crocker Coupons. All of the coupons collected will be donated to David Wade, a senior at Memphis State College. General Mills has pledged this young man a kidney machine upon receipt of 600,000 coupons. Without this machine David will die. Presently there are three colleges collecting coupons and the halfway mark has been reached; but the deadline of May is getting near.

Anyone that would like to contribute some coupons and help save David's life, please send them to:

Dear Mr. Blanton

You no doubt get letters once in a while telling you what a good fellow you are, but I suspect that you hear from the "other kind" pretty often, and certainly more promptly. I must admit, that even I have procrastinated (big word ain't it) for a few days before getting around to writing. Anyway, what I want to say is the committee for our Easter Sunrise Service at New Madrid thinks "The Standard" did an outstanding job of publicizing our Easter program and we want you to know it.

Having the fine reporting team of Nadine and Bud Townsend here in New Madrid representing both of us, made the deal no coincidence, we realize. It is little wonder that the people of New Madrid like to read your paper. So we will say the only thing, better than just a plain thank you, that can be said to a newspaper publisher, and that is "you just keep printin' 'em, and we'll keep readin' 'em."

We had a wonderful crowd from all over our area and believe that The Sikeston Standard did its' share in getting them here, and the BIG spread you did on the program itself was great. We think you're a nice guy Charley Blanton.

Very truly yours,
Harold Sloas

BUICK BARGAIN DAYS ARE HERE

Buick Bargain Days are saving days.

A bargain price on a stripped-down car is no bargain. But a Buick or Opel at a bargain is something else again. Because we're not selling some special stripped-down model. We're selling Buicks and Opels, the same great cars we've sold all year. With one difference. The deals have never been better. Which means that you can move out in a new Buick or Opel at a price that's hard to believe. When Buick talks about a bargain, we give you something to believe in.

Opel 1900 Sport Coupe. With a 1.9 liter engine that operates efficiently on low-lead or no-lead gasolines, hydraulic valve lifters for quiet engine operation, power front disc brakes and more.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Your Buick-Opel dealer will give you better reasons to buy a new car now than anybody else.

The business of auto safety.

Auto safety is everyone's concern. But it's our business.

And we think the attention that's being paid to auto safety now is a good thing. Because it will result in better driving for everyone.

And, frankly, better driving for everyone means better business for us.

We say Buick is something to believe in. That's why we're trying to make it easy to be safe by putting in safety features that work by themselves. You don't have to do anything to make them work.

Like side guard beams. And the energy absorbing steering column. And the cargo guard between the trunk and back seat. They start "working" even before you get in the car.

But two safety features, two of the most vital, are worthless unless you do something first.

Seat and shoulder belts.

Unfastened they do nothing. And you've seen enough statistics to know what a difference they can make. So use them.

But that's not all you can do. Because the most effective safety feature of all can't be added to our cars or anybody else's.

That feature is you. And the way you drive.

Which should be defensively. And rested. And sober.

We're all in this together. And together we can solve the auto safety problem once and for all.

And the time is now.

The Daily Standard Readers: This INTRODUCTORY OFFER brings you

$500.00-A-MONTH TAX-FREE CASH WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

–Only 25¢ covers your entire family for the first month

- ★ Pays you cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for each hospital stay...even for life, if necessary.
- ★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—including Medicare.
- ★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to doctor or hospital).
- ★ Guaranteed Renewable for Life. National Home guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you become or how many claims you have.

No salesman will call—No medical examination required—No age limit

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 22, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you – or some beloved member of your family–tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? Many have learned the hard way that public and private insurance pays only 40% of the nation's total medical care bill. What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in our National Home plan that Pays you $500.00-a-month tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have $500.00 cash coming in every month when you go to the hospital. You get your $500.00-a-month cash – tax-free – as long as you are confined in the hospital. You are covered from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.

Now, this low-cost plan from National Home enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Your introductory rate is just 25¢ for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then, you may continue at National Home's regular low rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this $500.00-a-month plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Use the money as you see fit–for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage or rent payments, to replace savings–or any necessary, but costly, expenses not covered by other hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why National Home developed this low-cost plan that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses.

We can never cancel your policy!

You can count on this wonderful protection no matter how old you become or how many times you collect from us. Your policy guarantees that we can never cancel your protection for any reason whatsoever. It is Guaranteed Renewable for Life!

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family – this policy (NH10-669) . . .

PAYS $500.00-A-MONTH CASH for each accident or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.

PAYS $250.00-A-MONTH CASH for the first three months, when you're 65 or over. And a full $500.00-A-MONTH CASH thereafter—even for life. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.

PAYS $300.00-A-MONTH CASH if a covered child is hospitalized for injury or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital. And the benefits continue for as long as necessary.

PAYS $2,000.00-A-MONTH CASH when both husband and wife (under age 65) are hospitalized at the same time for accidental injury for as long as both remain in the hospital—even for life, if necessary.

PAYS $400.00-A-MONTH CASH for a registered nurse at home if your doctor has you hire one within five days following a covered hospital confinement of five days or more.

PAYS up to $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

65 OR OVER? YOU COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

We have designed this plan as a valuable addition to whatever is paid by Medicare–or health insurance you may have with any other companies. In fact, combined public and private insurance covers only about 57% of the total medical costs for people 65 or over. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. In addition to any benefits you may receive from Medicare, this National Home plan pays you at the rate of $250.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $500.00 monthly while hospitalized thereafter . . . even for life if necessary!

Pays you $300.00-a-month cash whenever any dependent child is hospitalized.

When you choose Coverage for Children, all your unmarried dependent children from age one month through 18 years are covered, too! What's more, any newborn children you have in the future are covered automatically at the age of one month –at no additional cost to you. And whenever any of your children go to the hospital, this National Home plan pays you at the rate of $300.00-a-month cash, for as long as necessary. Children are covered for accidents from the first day and for sickness from the sixth day.

Pays you tax-free cash Maternity Benefits, too.

With this plan, you can also collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for every day you are confined to the hospital for pregnancy, childbirth, or even miscarriage. You get this cash, which is yours to use as you see fit, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. Of course, both parents must be enrolled in this plan for the entire period of pregnancy.

Pays you $400.00-a-month cash for a Registered Nurse at Home.

Here's a wonderful "get well" benefit of this National Home plan: You collect cash benefits at the rate of $400.00 a month when your doctor has you employ a full-time registered nurse within five days after you come home, following a stay in the hospital of five days or more for which benefits were payable. You are paid for the same number of covered days that you were in the hospital–even up to 12 full months!

Double Cash Accident Benefit.

When you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, this National Home plan pays you an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. Your spouse receives not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. That's $2,000.00 in all, in cash payments to you every month (when under age 65) starting the day you enter the hospital for as long as you both remain there.

Pays you up to $2,000.00 cash for these accidental losses . . .

The accidental loss of limbs or eyesight can be terrible. But if such loss occurs any time within 90 days of the accident, you collect $1,000.00 for the complete loss of a hand or a foot or the sight of an eye–and $2,000.00 for loss of two limbs or the sight of both eyes.

Waiver of premium benefit.

Should you–the policyowner–be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Home plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself. Then, if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, we will again pay any premiums while you are in the hospital–for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your National Home policy covers every kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provison; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy . . . during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered.

Nationally known and respected.

This is the kind of outstanding protection you may have seen in Reader's Digest, Parents', National Geographic and other leading publications. The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states – and many foreign countries – paying benefits at the rate of more than $1,500,000.00 a month. In addition, our Company has a RECOMMENDED rating from Best's Insurance Reports, one of the foremost insurance authorities in the nation.

Fast, reliable claim service when needed most.

You never really know how good a policy is until you have to make a claim. That's why we think you'll be interested in what some of our National Home members have to say. Their comments–quoted below–are typical of the hundreds of expressions of appreciation we receive from policyowners every week.

"Received your checks totaling $585.68 for injury. I appreciated your kindness and promptness in the claim. It certainly came in handy and I had less worries knowing I had this protection. You certainly paid all the benefits stated in the policy without question." MRS. ANGELA B. HARDY, Abbeville, Louisiana

"You folks were very prompt in sending the money when my wife went to the hospital for surgery. Thank you so much." HAROLD DOVENBORG, Zanesville, Ohio

"I was more than satisfied with the way my claim was handled. One couldn't ask for better service and the 'get well soon' message was one of the nicest thoughts on your part. I thank you sincerely." MARGUERITE LINDAU, Duluth, Minnesota

DR. E. STANLEY JONES, internationally known evangelist, author, missionary statesman: "In offering low-cost health insurance by mail, you are rendering a valuable service to thousands of people who have no other opportunity to avail themselves of such protection. It's reassuring to know that policyowners insured by the National Liberty group are receiving more than $1,500,000.00 a month in benefits."

JEROME HINES, leading bass with the Metropolitan Opera Company: "It seems to me that the concept of health insurance by mail is a very sensible one. It's quick, easy and economical. Nobody makes surprise visits to your home to ask personal questions. There's no medical examination. And costly processing charges are eliminated. This means more protection at less cost. I congratulate National Home Life Assurance Company for meeting a real need."

National Liberty Corporation, parent of National Home Life Assurance Company, has been commended in the United States Congressional Record for bringing low-cost insurance to the general public: "National Liberty deserves recognition for providing service beyond the expected, service willingly offered to those who are not being cared for in other ways. This is the secret of success for its low-cost insurance plans. With the highest public interest at heart, the National Liberty Corporation group of companies combines reliability and quality of service with noteworthy price advantages. It is to be commended on its leadership and vision in this field of human welfare."

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment Form—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to enroll in this plan? Because this is a guaranteed enrollment offer, we can open the enrollment only during a limited time period–with a firm deadline date for everyone. To provide you with this broad coverage at these rates, we must receive your Enrollment Form during the same period as all the others.

As soon as we receive your Enrollment Form we will rush your policy to you by First Class Mail. When your policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. It is a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to see there is no fine print. Show it, if you wish, to your doctor, lawyer, insurance agent, or some other trusted advisor.

Here are your low rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	only $2.95
45-49	only $3.40
50-54	only $3.75
55-74	only $4.35
75-79	only $5.00
80-84	only $5.55
85 and over	only $6.65

Only $1.55 more per month covers all your unmarried dependent children . . . from the age of one month through 18 years. Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month – at no additional cost. And then if you wish, just add $1.15 monthly to that, and you're covered for Maternity Benefits, too.

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this National Home plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

Act NOW—"Later" May Be Too Late!
Just 25¢ covers you and your family for first month.

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment Form into the mail today–because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today –before anything unexpected happens.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED ABOUT THIS NATIONAL HOME PLAN

1. How much will I be paid when I go to the hospital?

You will receive cash at the rate of $500.00 a month ($16.67 a day). When you're 65 or over, you collect (in addition to any Medicare benefits) $250.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $500.00 monthly while you remain continuously hospitalized thereafter. And you collect cash for an accident even if you're in the hospital for only one day. Coverage for illness begins the sixth day—and benefits are paid in full for as long as you're hospitalized . . . even for life, if necessary.

2. Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?

You collect cash at the rate of $300.00 a month whenever any of your children (age 1 month through 18 years) go to the hospital—if Coverage for Children is added to the basic plan. Coverage for accidents begins on the first day—sickness on the sixth day. And if you have a growing family—as soon as any newborn child is one month old, he, too, is covered—automatically . . . at no additional cost.

3. When do I start to collect hospital benefits?

This new plan (NH10-669) covers you from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.

4. Will you pay me cash benefits for pregnancy?

Yes, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. You collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this plan for entire pregnancy period.)

5. Suppose I'm hospitalized for a long time and can't meet my premium payments?

If you—the policyowner—are hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. You aren't expected to pay us back, either.

6. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your policy covers everything except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

7. What are the requirements to enroll in this National Home plan?

You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and to qualify during this Enrollment Period—you must enroll before midnight of the date shown on the Enrollment Form.

8. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages to joining this plan during this Enrollment Period?

Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a lengthy, detailed application—just the brief Enrollment Form in the corner of this page. Also, during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!

9. How do I enroll?

Fill out the brief Enrollment Form and mail it with just 25¢ for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: National Home, Valley Forge, Pa. 19481.

We will send your National Home policy by mail. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. Show it, if you wish, to your own insurance agent, doctor, lawyer or other trusted advisor. If you decide, for any reason, that you don't want to continue as a member of this plan, return the policy within 15 days of the date you receive it, and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile, you will be fully protected while making your decision!

Combat Soldiers Get Tax Break

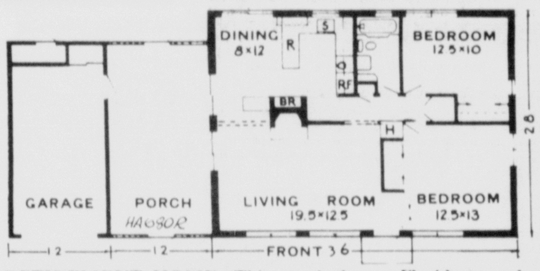
WASHINGTON (ANF) — A new rule has been adopted by the Treasury Department which extends combat zone tax benefits to military personnel who qualify for hostile fire pay outside the Republic of Vietnam.

The tax changes extend combat zone tax benefits to military personnel who qualified for hostile fire pay in the Cambodian operation and those who receive hostile fire pay while serving in Southeast Asia.

These members of the armed forces will receive the same income tax exclusion given to personnel in a designated combat zone. The pay for enlisted men and warrant officers will be exempt from federal income tax, while the first $500 a month of a commissioned officer's pay will be exempt.

The tax changes also provide certain benefits for the estate of servicemen killed while serving in the RVN combat zone. These include exemption from estate taxation in most cases and a refund of any income taxes paid since first entering a combat zone.

Under the amended rules, combat zone tax benefits will no longer be granted to military personnel who pass over or through a combat zone while making a trip between two points which lie outside the combat zone or who are in the zone solely for their own personal convenience.



RETIREMENT HOME: This two-bedroom Florida-type design has a rather small floor plan but is 28 x 36, plus porch and garage. The living room fireplace has a built-in barbecue handy to the U-shaped kitchen and dining room. This no-basement slab home with plaster walls inside and stucco exterior is estimated to cost about $15,000 plus a minimum 75 x 125 plot. Plan HA680R was designed by architect Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd Street North, St. Petersburg, Fla., 33710.

MODERN CINDERELLA

This interesting flower is the new double Gloriosa daisy, easily grown from seeds. It will bloom this summer if you sow them as soon as the soil dries.

Every youngster knows black-eyed-susan, summer wild flower of open fields. But even some dyed-in-the-wool gardeners don't realize what plant breeders have produced from this humble wildling.

These high-toned relatives are called Gloriosa daisies and their 5-inch-wide blooms dwarf those of black-eyed susan. Some have golden yellow flowers with a dark brown center "eye". A new variety, Irish Eyes, has a green "eye". Other varieties are "zoned" with mahogany red toward the center of each flower, golden yellow towards the outer edge of each petal. This variety is named Pinwheel.

The newest Gloriosa daisy is even further removed from its origins for it has either semi-double or fully double flowers, also golden yellow. When they are entirely open a dark brown, velvety center may show.

All Gloriosa daisy flowers, single or double, are borne on the same sturdy plants and stiff stems that mark the wild black-eyed-susan. Flowers open all summer long and continue even into fall. If you sow seeds as soon as soil dries you can have blooms in your garden this year.

There has been much debate about whether Gloriosa daisies are annual, biennial or perennial. Plants winter over from fall-sown seeds to bloom the following year. In some climates they then die. In other areas they come up from the roots year after year. You'll have to find, by trial and error, how they perform where you live.

But don't miss growing them. They're really spectacular.

David Will Head Study

JEFFERSON CITY--Thomas A. David, director of highways, has been named to head Missouri's participation in a national transportation needs study. The study will include all forms of transportation, including mass transit and airports, as well as highways.

David's appointment was made by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

When completed, the transportation study will be used to help make up a basis for legislative and expenditure recommendations to the President and the Congress.

The study is a result of one of the provisions of the 1970 Federal Aid Highway Act passed by Congress and signed by the President in December.

Each governor was asked to provide a representative to co-ordinate the study in his state.

David said the study would provide the first co-ordinated assessment of over-all transportation in Missouri and would be a big step toward helping make intelligent decisions on the state's transportation systems.

"I think our collective inability to see and accept transportation as a single system, requiring the integration and co-ordination of modes, is causing difficulty in some quarters. We have come a long way in the development of the various modes of transportation and I think this will help us reach a point where we can take an overall view of them."

David said the study will give considerable emphasis to the use of highway and street facilities by public transportation services.

Among the provisions of the 1970 Highway Act was permission to expend highway trust funds to construct lanes on freeways for exclusive or preferential use by buses under specific conditions; fringe parking facilities at gathering points along bus routes; highway traffic control devices; and busloading areas.

Also included will be a look at air strips, rapid transit, bridges and other capital improvements.

Rail facilities are excluded, as rail financing is being provided in a federal mass transit act.

Eventual goal of the planning is to provide a balanced transportation system which meets the needs of all residents of the state, according to David. He said the study was to be submitted to the Department of Transportation in Washington by February of next year and asked local planning groups to give their part in the study the highest priority in order to meet the federal deadline.

KOREANIZATION is now the word along an all but forgotten frontier between the Communist and Western worlds. A South Korean stands guard along the Demilitarized Zone, bordered with barbed wire to block North Korean infiltration. South Korean troops fill in along the 151-mile truce line, replacing 20,000 U.S. soldiers withdrawing by the end of June.

Masonic Anniversary To Be Feted

CAPE GIRARDEAU — Southeast Missouri Masons will observe the 150th anniversary of the chartering of the Grand Lodge of Missouri A.F. and A.M. with a special program April 25.

The observance will feature a nationally - known speaker, two past grand masters of the state lodge, and the current grand master.

Principal speaker will be the prominent chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives' Committee on Internal Security, Rep. Richard H. Ichord. Ichord, himself a Mason, represents Missouri's 8th District in Congress and makes his home in Texas County.

The Sesquicentennial program, to begin at 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Academic Hall at Southeast Missouri State College, is one of nine being held throughout Missouri this spring. The Grand Lodge of Missouri was organized in St. Louis in 1821 by three lodges with a membership of less than 100 men.

Since then, it has grown until it includes 500 lodges throughout the state and more than 110,000 members.

Present grand master of the state lodge is William Chapman of Webster Groves, a St. Louis insurance executive. He will bring greetings from the state organization to fellow Masons attending the program for the southeast Missouri area.

Past grand masters who have a part on the program are Elvis A. Mooney, a Bloomfield attorney, who will introduce guests and lodge representatives, and Dr. H. O. Grauel, professor of English at Southeast Missouri State, who will present historical highlights of the Grand Lodge of Missouri.

Other parts of the program include advancing of the colors by the Cape Girardeau chapters of Job's Daughters and the Order of Demolay, the national anthem and other music by the college symphony orchestra, and several numbers by the Meistersingers, a men's chorus.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Thomas Messer, director of the Baptist Student Union in Cape Girardeau, and the benediction will be said by the Rev. Jack Montgomery, minister of the Methodist Church in Farmington.

Following the program there will be a reception in Memorial Hall on the college campus for the visiting Masons, their wives, and friends.

Topic of the principal speaker of the day will be "Congress and the 1970's As Seen by the Chairman of the House Committee on Internal Security."

Rep. Ichord served eight years in the Missouri General Assembly before being elected to Congress in 1960. In 1959 he became the youngest speaker of the house in the history of the Missouri legislature. He is the youngest committee chairman in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Vitamin C May Aid in Removing Cholesterol

CHICAGO (AP) — Ascorbic acid, or vitamin C, may prove helpful in removing fatty deposits from blood vessels, a Pennsylvania biochemist stays.

Experiments with rats indicate this is another potential use for this now controversial compound, Dr. Ralph Mumma of the Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture said Wednesday.

Dr. Linus Pauling, a Nobel Prize winning chemist, has claimed that vitamin C is particularly effective in preventing colds when taken in large amounts. A number of scientists have disputed the claim, however.

Mumma told a session at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology that work he and a graduate student, Anthony Verlangieri, have done confirms some findings of Soviet scientists.

The Soviet researchers have used ascorbic acid in rats, rabbits and human beings to flush cholesterol from blood vessels.

Mumma said he would not extend his work to human beings but added, "I hope it has meaning in humans." He said he has increased his own daily intake of ascorbic acid.

He reported success in flushing cholesterol from rats and said he plans more studies with rats and said he plans more studies with rats and other animals.

Atherosclerosis, a major cause of disease and death, occurs when blood vessels become clogged with cholesterol deposits. The flow of blood is impeded and the heart is affected.

More than 300 Young Democrats Expected

Plans are being made to accomodate more than 300 delegates for a two-day Young Democrat state convention to be held at Sikeston on June 18-19.

Scott County Young Democrat members working on the convention's schedule of events are expecting more than 1,000 persons at the Saturday night banquet to be held at the Sikeston Public School Field House.

A nationally known Democratic Party figure is being contacted to serve as feature speaker at the banquet. Most of the other convention events are being set for the Ramada Inn near Sikeston on Interstate Highway 55.

There is to be a Texas style Bar-B-Q, a Casino Royale Party, breakfast gatherings, a farewell dance, Business meetings and elections for Young Democrat state offices will also be conducted during the two-day convention.

This is the first state-wide Young Democrat convention to be held in southeast Missouri during the 35 years of Missouri young Democrat conclaves.

The New Madrid County Young Democrats are joining in the pre-convention efforts by handling arrangements for the Saturday night June 19 banquet.

Two California Firms Top $4 Million in Farm Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The giant J.G. Boswell Co. farm in California, one of the nation's biggest cotton producers, collected $4.4 million from the government last year in crop subsidies.

That was almost $60,000 more than the farm received from the taxpayers in 1969 according to official records.

But now, if a new farm law is strictly enforced, giant operators like Boswell will be limited to a yearly subsidy of $55, 000 per crop. The limitation is in effect this year.

The big payment to the Boswell firm, perennially the front runner, was at the top of th list again when the Agriculture Department disclosed Thursday the names of 137,000 growers who each received $5,000 or more in payments last year.

Eight other big operators joined Boswell in the million dollar class. They were: Giffen, Inc., Huron, Calif. $4,095,114; South Lake Farms Fresno, Calif, $1,875,454; Salyer Land Co., Gordoran, Calif. $1,547,174; H.M. Tenneco formerly listed as Kern County Land Co., Bakersfield, Calif. $1,317,051; Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co., Puunene, Hawaii $1,232,166; Waialua Sugar Co., Ltd., Haialua Hawaii, $1,111, 060; Vista del Llano Parms, Firebaugh, Calif. $1,105,762; and U.S. Sugar Corp., Clewiston, Fla., $1,073,980.

In addition, 14 farms were listed as having received between $500,000 and $1 million last year.

Although made under a variety of program, the payments are keyed to controlling crop production and compensation farmers for taking surplus land out of use.

The new farm law, which sets up programs for cotton, wheat and feed grains through 1973, continues subsidy payments but, at the insistence of Congress, also includes the $55, 000 limitation.

Sugar payments are not covered by the limitation in the new law.

Hearnes to Meet With Regional Agency Chiefs

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)–Gov. Warren E. Hearnes plans to meet with regional administrators of federal agencies Monday in a first time effort to eliminate some of the red tape that slows joint efforts of the federal government and the state.

"It is not certain what might arise from this initial meeting" Hearnes said. "These regional administrators have been given a new measure of flexibility and authority in handling grant programs and trying to improve federal-state relations."

by PAULA PRENTICE

Twenty-five years ago Bradford Angier lived in the woods on "pennies a day." We are sure that when he did so and even now when he wrote a book about it, "How To Live In The Woods On Pennies A Day," he had no idea that today's generation would be highly motivated to get away from it all either in communes or simply for a temporary escape from a confusing life. So today, 25 years later, Angier has a book much more relevant than he could possibly have imagined.

Angier says there is a way out for a while or forever, whichever is your goal, and he tells how to get land for little or nothing in the beautiful northlands of Cananda and Alaska, much of it untouched by human foot. With this piece of land he tells in step-by-step instructions how to build a log cabin with your own hands and how to make the basic furniture you require.

"Even in this atomic age," he says, "there are still thousands of miles that haven't been walked on yet, where, at bargain basement costs you can stretch, breathe, and really live." He provides specific information on where to write for land, how to stake a claim, and just what to look for and what to expect from all the open spaces to the north.

What he suggests may come from an "untrustworthy over-thirty type but his experience of a quarter of a century ago have resulted in some priceless hints on such items as building a smokehouse, curing meat with salt and spices, using bayberries for seasoning, candles, soap, and finding and fixing wild foods.

With his young bride, the author gave up a career in journalism to make a different kind of life for himself. He found land on, appropriately enough, Peace River in Hudson Hope, British Columbia. Did he anticiapte today's frenetic life and that years later other young people would seek peace away from civilization.?

Today's young people are seeking that peace and developing hand skills to find a new way of life. For those who have such dreams, Bradford Angier'sbook makes fascinating reading. HOW TO LIVE IN THE WOODS ON PENNIES A DAY - By Bradford Angier (Stackpole Books $6.95).the end

Clara Flips Over Flannigan

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Clara went to sleep while her husband and several of his cronies started a poker game. Later, Clara suddenly awakened in her pitch black bedroom and felt someone on the bed next to her.

Assuming that it was her husband, voluptuous Clara began to hug and kiss him....and received a very passionate response. When she began to run her willowy fingers through his long and silky hair, Clara suddenly became extremely upset. Her husband, she recalled, was bald.

Jumping out of bed, Clara quickly flicked on the lights. And, as she did so she managed to see Finnigan hotlegging it out of her bedroom. Outraged, Clara had Finnigan arrested on charges of having taken improper liberties with her.

"What's she want from me?" protested Finnigan in court. "She not only consented to it, she started it. I merely went into the bedroom to relax a little from the poker game and she suddenly began to hug and kiss me. Being a passionate guy, I naturally began to hug and kiss her back."

I did it only because I thought it was my husband," was Clara's terse response. "After all, the room was dark and who else, I figured, would sit on my bed except my husband?"

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you convict passionate Finnigan of taking improper liberties with Clara?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that impersonating a woman's husband negates her consent to being hugged and kissed. And, concluded the judge in effect, Finnigan knew or should have known that Clara thought he was her husband when she began to hug and kiss him.

By BOB JONES

WORD SHAPE is not as important to your young son or daughter as the first letter of the word. In a study of children's reading habits, using three and five letter nonsense words, Dr. Virginia Fisher of child and family development has found that first and third graders depend mostly on the first letter of each word for clues to the word's identity.

And, the youngsters depended more on first and final letters than they did on word shape. This discovery from UMC research may bring important changes in the ways that we teach reading to our children.

The recent corn blight epidemic may have been a real blessing. It has called the attention of national leaders in many fields to our extremely vulnerable food production situation.

It is natural for farmers and producers to want to grow the most efficient and marketable varieties. When a promising new strain is discovered, vast acreages may be planted to it and to near relatives. Other varieties are phased out to make way for the newcomers.

Unfortunately, this could make our entire food supply vulnerable to one disease which concentrates on a particular variety. When a number of different strains or varieties are being grown, it is not likely that any one disease can wipe them out.

Dr. James G. Horsfall, director of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station, is leading a study of this vulnerability in our nation's food supply.

It's time to take it easy on sugar. Medical scientists are beginning to worry about the amount of sugar that the average American consumes. Most of us eat as much as 100 pounds of sugar in a year, considering soft drinks, desserts, sweetened fruits, and other foods.

Sugar provides quick energy but no food value. It lacks vitamins, minerals, proteins, and other nutrients. Dr. John Yudkin, University of London, warns that sugar not only contributes to tooth decay and overweight, but gives indication of being at least as much involved in heart disease as is cholesterol.

If you have been having trouble with a favorite house plant that just doesn't grow right or if the north 40 isn't producing the way it did in grandpa's day, you may be ready for plant tissue analysis.

There are two ways that you can do this, says J. R. Brown, researcher in the department of agronomy. One is to use the method described in UMC Guide 9130, "Plant analysis," available from your University Extension Center. This guide describes ways that a quick test can be made to estimate the levels of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium in the fresh plant tissues. The tests do not give real quantitive results, Brown points out.

The other way is a laboratory analysis. When a laboratory determination is made, as many as 16 elements can be assessed for a single plant. Test results will give percentage or parts per million of the elements present. Either way will help you decide what elements are needed.

Your Extension Center staff can help. They can give you information about how to take the samples. And they have access to a list laboratories which will make a complete plant analysis for you.

While the University, itself, does not make these analyses for the public, Brown is continuing his research into the ways that such analyses can be evaluated and applied to your plant and crop needs.

We mentioned in this column last year how the US and USSR had been able to overcome some of their Earthly competition and bitterness in order to cooperate on certain space projects. Notably, this included matching docking units which would allow a space vehicle from either nation to unite with one from the other while in orbit.

Once again these countries have been able to agree on scientific space activities: an exchange of moon samples. This way it won't be necessary for each country to visit every scientifically important moon area. There is still hope that space research can be the starting point for important peaceful relations between the Earth's two largest nations.
